

He's Not Poor

Hardly clothed by his tattered, grimy clothing, black-bearded Sam Velich, 51, above, arrested as a vagrant in New Orleans, astonished police by producing $16.50 in cash and utilities bonds valued at $6000. A Yugoslavian emigrant, Velich told of amassing and losing several fortunes, and finally being reduced to his last $6000.

STREET CARS CRASH; 31 INJURED

1 Dead, 6 Hurt In Accidents

ANAHEIM MAN IS KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

One man was killed and half a dozen were injured in accidents on Orange county highways during the week end.

Death of D. P. Beougher, 62, Anaheim, in the fatal accident, at 17th and Wright streets, Saturday afternoon, marked the 76th traffic fatality in Orange county this year. Mr. Beougher, resident of Route 2, Box 232, Anaheim, was driving north on Wright street when his car and one driven by Henry C. Gudikunt, 21, of the USS battleship, Idaho, collided.

Run Over by Car
The door of the Beougher car came off, Beougher fell out and was run over by his own car. He assertedly had jumped the boulevard stop on Wright street, as Gudikunt drove

F. D. R. ORDERED TO STAY HOME

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today postponed his trip to Warm Springs, Ga., on the advice of his White House physician who suggested that he rest this week to regain full strength after a short illness.

Mr. Roosevelt had planned to eat his Thanksgiving dinner at Warm Springs.

The president last week suffered from an abscessed tooth and a slight intestinal disorder. He remained in the White House today but had five scheduled callers.

Secretary Stephen T. Early said Mr. Roosevelt would delay his southern trip probably until the latter part of this week or the first part of next week.

Then, instead of going straight to Warm Springs, he will go to Florida for four or five days and rest in the sunshine, returning to Washington by way of Warm Springs and Gainesville, Ga.

SON HOPES FATHER WILL BE SENTENCED

PITTSFIELD, Ill., Nov. 22.—(UP)—The son and step-daughter of the Rev. Col. E. Newton, Baptist preacher, hoped today that their father will be found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Maybelle Kelly, his parishioner and confidante.

The boy, Noel, 22, feared his father's wrath; the step-daughter, Myra Hanan, 37, was fully aware of the seriousness of Newton's accusation, made while pleading his own innocence, that she was implicated in the crime.

Both testified against the minister. The boy destroyed his father's alibi for the night of the slaying. Miss Hanan blamed the preacher with the killing. She will be recalled, the state announced, to repudiate her step-father's statements that she was involved in the crime.

"I believe my father is guilty," Noel said. "I think he'll try to pin it on me. He'll be sore about my talking against him. I hope he gets it."

RESIDENT OF SANTA ANA 41 YEARS DIES

Mrs. Jessie Wealthy Raugh, 71, a resident of Santa Ana for the past 41 years, died yesterday at her home, 721 South Birch street. Death followed an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services for Mrs. Raugh will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Winbiger mortuary, with the Rev. H. I. Rasmus Jr., pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Cremation will follow at Fairhaven cemetery.

For more than 40 years Mrs. Raugh had been active in the First Methodist church and Sunday school and the Woman's Christian Temperance union.

Find Coast Defense Is 'Adequate'

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—The most exacting naval maneuvers in almost a year last week tested the defense of the California coast and proved it adequate.

That was the consensus of semi-official opinion expressed here today by officers who took part in the war games.

Not since fleet problem 18 was completed last spring has the combined power of the battle and scouting forces engaged in such strenuous tests as were ordered last week by Vice Admiral Claude Block, who in February succeeds Admiral Arthur J. Hepburn as commander-in-chief of the fleet.

War-Like Conditions
Under conditions which simulated those of actual warfare as nearly as is humanly possible in peace times, the 200 aircraft and more and 100 surface craft went through their paces day and night.

High ranking officers, speaking unofficially, and refusing to be quoted directly, summoned up their convictions on the adequacy of Pacific coastal defense on the following points:

By PAUL VISSMAN

Scoring "certain political leaders" who have seized upon the opportunity to blame business for the present economic situation and declaring that the debacle was led by "certain starchy-eyed idealists who really want to improve the world but have no conception of practical methods," William C. 6-DAY STRIKE IS CONCLUDED

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Five hundred sit down strikers in the closed plant of the Fisher Body Corporation terminated their six-day strike today after Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers Union, pleaded with them for more than an hour to return to work.

A personal appeal by Martin climaxed 24 hours of concentrated effort by high union officials to break the strike. Martin went to the closed plant this morning after previous threats and promises had brought no response from the sit-downers.

"It's All Over"
As Martin left the plant, following a conference with strike leaders that lasted an hour and 20 minutes, he was followed by the first of the strikers.

"It's all over, boys," he told newspapermen waiting at the gates. He started to tell reporters that the plant would be evacuated immediately, but his words were lost in the rush of the self-imposed strikers for the gates.

"We hope that this will mean the men can return to work tomorrow," Martin said. "General Motors Corporation will be notified immediately."

Plan Negotiations
Almost at the moment that the strikers, some of them bearded and unkempt, moved out of the closed plant, Martin revealed his intention to attempt immediate negotiations over the grievances which precipitated the strike—the alleged lay-off of almost 100 Fisher workers—and later the announced determination of the corporation to punish the four known "perpetrators" of the sit-down.

The chastisement from the Vatican centered on Coughlin's characterization, during a broadcast view October 5, of President Roosevelt's "personal stupidity" in appointing the then Senator Hugo Black of Alabama to the U. S. Supreme Court.

"Unfortunate Words"
The Archbishop of Detroit replied publicly to the Coughlin statement, expressing regret the radio priest had not had "prudent counsel" but would have "kept Father Coughlin from using the unfortunate words, 'personal stupidity' to describe a recent official act of the President of the United States."

After the October 5th interview, the priest shortly divorced himself from all save his regular religious activities.

A scheduled series of 26 weekly broadcasts on Sunday sermons which had raised him from the obscurity of a parish priest to international renown after a 12-year period—were abruptly cancelled.

The boy, Noel, 22, feared his father's wrath; the step-daughter, Myra Hanan, 37, was fully aware of the seriousness of Newton's accusation, made while pleading his own innocence, that she was implicated in the crime.

Both testified against the minister. The boy destroyed his father's alibi for the night of the slaying. Miss Hanan blamed the preacher with the killing. She will be recalled, the state announced, to repudiate her step-father's statements that she was involved in the crime.

"I believe my father is guilty," Noel said. "I think he'll try to pin it on me. He'll be sore about my talking against him. I hope he gets it."

The search was started while investigators questioned Walter "Good Time Charlie" Friedman and Maxie Russ, arrested with two others on suspicion of robbery.

The "Big Shot" New York gangster was sought for questioning regarding the slaying of Hymie Miller, Hollywood restaurant owner and former prize fight manager, who was killed a week ago in his apartment, the district attorney's office said.

Feud Blamed for Prison Stabbing
STATE PRISON, Florence, Ariz., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Warden A. J. Barnes today blamed a "bitter convict feud" for the serious stabbing of Fred Shade, burglar and locked Gene Gryder, highway robber, in solitary confinement pending investigation.

Shade, stabbed twice, one slash believed puncturing his lung, lay in serious condition in the prison hospital. He refused to tell Barnes who attacked him. He is serving five to 10 years for burglary in Coconino county. Gryder, serving 15 years for highway robbery, was held in the "snakes" after guards found a crudely-made knife in his cell.

Test Looms For F. D. R. Farm Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Four senate and house leaders reported to President Roosevelt today that they would hasten his legislative program "as much as possible," in the special session of congress.

The leaders were Vice President John N. Garner; Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley, D., Ky. House Speaker William B. Bankhead, D., Ala., and House Majority Leader Sam Rayburn, D., Tex.

The group conferred with Mr. Roosevelt in his White House bedroom.

PLAN TEST OF ADMINISTRATION STRENGTH
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Administration leaders prepared today for a test of strength of farm and labor legislation that may determine the outcome of President Roosevelt's special session of congress.

Conflict over the farm and labor measures was expected soon to indicate whether Mr. Roosevelt may expect congress to act on his four-point legislative program before Christmas or whether the in-

FOREIGNERS IN NANKING FLEE

SHANGHAI, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Foreigners who had remained in Nanking made hasty preparation to evacuate the capital today on the strength of reports that Chinese defenses to the south were cracking and that Japanese air raids were impending.

United States Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson was aboard the gunboat Luzon, which will steam up the Yangtze river tomorrow for Hankow, leading the general evacuation of foreign embassies.

Troops Bombed
For more than an hour today six Japanese planes power dived, bombed and machine-gunned troops moving southeast from the city to the Yangtze river.

BOATMAN CONTINUES DANGEROUS JOURNEY

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Buzz Holmstrom, adventure-seeking Canadian, Ore, boatman, continued his journey over the treacherous rapids of the Colorado river today after passing a scientific expedition party at Diamond Rock.

Dr. Ian Campbell, leader of the Carnegie Institution-California Institute of Technology expedition, reported by short wave radio that the lone boatman was "all right when he passed us Saturday." He said Holmstrom "looked like a man out of the past," with his heavy beard and deeply-tanned skin.

Holmstrom reported he probably would sail on to Boulder dam, reaching there about mid-week. If he succeeds, he will be the first man to make the trip from Green River, Wyo., where he started on October 4.

COLD WAVE SWEEPS THROUGH MIDWEST

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(UP)—A cold wave from the Arctic blanketed the nation from the Rockies to the Alleghenies today and forced temperatures in many cities down to the near-zero mark.

Show flurries were forecast for the plains states and the lower Missouri valley and southern portions of Illinois and Missouri. Light snow was reported last night over New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and most of New England.

Governor Forecaster J. R. Lloyd predicted colder weather tomorrow and the western and south-central states. The present cold wave extends as far south as the Rio Grande valley, he said.

DEAR GEORGE: I heard you last night and got that old feeling. I, too, love Minneapolis. It's just been ignorance on my part. Plain ignorance. Of course, that's

Odds and Ends
I MET a very close friend of mine in the Loop last night. He's given me scores of items in the past. Some of them have been little scraps, too. And he's never been wrong. Here's one he dropped last night—you may take it for what it's worth: A prominent labor leader in Minneapolis will be "taken for a ride" within two weeks.

Federal agents are after Frank Kiesel, the brewery advertising manager, for alleged "sneaking" of beer. The brewery says government can't stop the stunt, but they've asked the brewery to stop it. It plays havoc with the banks. . . . Note to Belmont

Since the grim prophesy of a Minneapolis "gossip" columnist, circled in black in top photo, was fulfilled in the murder of Patrick J. Corcoran, lower left, Teamsters' Union official, six other Twin City labor leaders, named for death on "assassination lists," have lived in dread that they had little hope for the recovery of any of the four.

BUSINESS MEN DEFY FATE, AS MOVING MOUNTAIN THREATENS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Worried city officials, failing to persuade a score of persons to abandon homes and stores near Elysian Park's "Moving Mountain," installed a fire siren today to give them warning to flee if the mass breaks loose in a 2,000,000 ton avalanche of rocks, trees and earth.

At least three commercial establishments are directly in the path of the bluff that is creeping down from the picturesque wooded park a mile from the city hall. Further back are several blocks of homes.

Some of the bakery employees left their jobs. All other occupants ignored official warnings. Store fronts were boarded up in fear of a stray rock shattering the glass window, but owners scoffed at landslide fears. One property owner even threatened to sue the city for issuing a "false warning."

Establish Lookouts
Engineers still hoped the bluff would settle gradually. As a precaution they stationed a 24-hour

INVESTIGATE DEATH OF HOWARD COFFIN

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Nov. 22.—(UP)—A coroner's jury will decide probably today, the circumstances leading up to the mysterious and violent death of Howard Earl Coffin, nationally known industrialist and intimate friend of Presidents Coolidge and Hoover.

Coffin was found shot to death in his apartment in one of the several hundred winter homes of northern millionaires on Sea Island in Brunswick Bay yesterday morning. A single shot from his hunting rifle had penetrated his brain. The rifle was beside him.

All that was known was purely negative. Coffin could not have been slain. He was seen to enter the apartment after he had been downstairs to breakfast and the apartment was empty. The rifle was fired by himself.

OPIUM DENS RAIDED
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Federal authorities held 1500 grains of opium and yanshee today as evidence seized in raids on five alleged opium dens in the Locke and Courtland districts last night.

O. Young Duck, 37, Locke Chinese, was arrested and charged with possession of three opium pipes, 300 grains of opium and 300 grains of yanshee. Evidently apprised of the impending raids, operators of the four other establishments had fled when officers arrived.

REPORT PLANS FOR NEW REBEL OFFENSE
HENDAYE, Franco - British Frontier, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Conflicting reports of an armistice and plans for a Nationalist offensive in eastern Spain were received at the border today.

The report of the armistice was denied by President Louis Companys of autonomous Catalonia, who crossed the frontier into Spain from Perpignan at the end of a vacation.

FOG BLAMED IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Thirty-one persons were injured, four so seriously they probably will die, when two express street cars collided head-on on the outskirts of the city here today.

The crash occurred in a dense fog as a heavily loaded La Jolla-Mission Beach car, bound for San Diego, ploughed into an Ocean Beach bound car.

Filled With People
Filled with men and women, commuting to work in San Diego, the inbound car telescoped the Ocean Beach car, tore up tracks over a wide area, and snapped poles carrying high tension power lines.

Wreckage was strewn over a wide area.

Most seriously injured were Helge Erickson, 28, motorman on the La Jolla-Mission Beach car; E. H. Neely, W. C. McAllister, 42, and Louise Hugus. Hospital attaches said they had little hope for the recovery of any of the four.

DAMAGE SUITS FAGED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The government faces damage suits totaling at least $10,000,000 for cancellation of old ocean mail contracts unless Congress or the United States Maritime Commission acts before Jan. 1, it was revealed today.

Ocean mail contracts between shipping companies and the post office department were cancelled by law June 30. Pending negotiation of long term federal subsidies under the new maritime act, the maritime commission entered into temporary subsidy agreements with 28 shipping lines. These agreements expire Jan. 1.

Claims Filed
Cancellation of the old mail contracts brought claims for damages from some of the companies, based largely on the revenue they would have received under the old system. Congress allowed these companies until Jan. 1 to file suit.

In negotiating temporary agreements, the commission reached a settlement with 25 of the companies whose contracts were cancelled, but three operators—the Dollar Steamship Lines, the Munson Steamship Line and the United Fruit Company—were not satisfied.

Unless Congress extends the deadline for filing suit or the maritime commission negotiates contract settlements in the next six weeks, these three concerns will be forced to begin legal action.

GOODYEAR WORKERS END STRIKE; RETURN

AKRON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The first of 12,000 workers peacefully returned to work in two huge plants of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. today after members of the United Rubber Workers voted in mass meeting to accept a tentative settlement effected by the National Labor Relations Board, ending a sit-down strike which began at midnight Thursday.

The regular 6 a. m. shift, numbering 3000, entered the plants without incident. Goodyear officials said.

Union officials announced that they would file charges today with the labor board against Gov. Martin J. Davey who had mobilized 2000 national guardsmen to give protection to all Goodyear workers who wished to return to work despite the strike.

GRANGER ESTATE ESTIMATED AT $50,000

WIDOW NAMED SOLE HEIR IN BANKER'S WILL

Petitions filed today in superior court to probate the will of the late W. D. Granger, 82, former Orange banker, and to terminate his joint tenancy interest in certain real and personal property, disclosed an estate value in excess of $50,000, but did not show its full extent.

The widow, Ella P. Granger, of Orange, was sole heir under the will, which concerns bonds, notes and stocks of a value "exceeding $10,000" according to her petition.

At her death the estate goes in equal shares to a daughter, Mrs. Grace Campbell, R. D. 1, Orange, and a son, Earl C. Granger, of San Francisco.

The petition to terminate joint tenancy affects bank deposits aggregating $17,321.01, notes and investments certificates amounting to $15,000, and two parcels of real estate in the Bonnie Brae tract and Grote addition, Orange.

SEEK PRIZEFIGHTER FOR SLAYING GIRL

OAKLAND, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Willie Mitchell, 20-year-old Negro prizefighter, today shot and killed his sweetheart in her apartment then escaped, police reported.

Fannie Noland, 25, Negro, was shot four times. One bullet entered her heart.

Neighbors told police Mitchell became enraged when Miss Noland refused his request to cook him a meal. After shooting her, witnesses said, Mitchell ran outside, leaped over a fence and fled.

A citywide search was started for Mitchell. An all point teletype, description was dispatched to out of town police in the belief he may have left Oakland.

Neighbors said Mitchell carried two revolvers.

MULLENDORE IN BUSINESS PLEA

Mulendore was the speaker at a membership meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. He outlined the program of the national body to revive a public understanding of American business and the American system.

"Albion Are Over" "After three or four years of attacking business, the politicians have finished feeding the public albion. But business learned that these albion have almost cut the throat of business and we had almost ruined ourselves before our awakening," he said.

"The people of America have been told that business has caused all our ills. The sad part of it is that people in business have had a large share in this attack. The attack, however, is always aimed at a scarce crowd, or straw man some place other than our own community."

Spending Spree "We do not realize that during the days of 1929 almost every responsible person in the United States had part in the spending spree that led to the depression everyone was speculating or over-spending thinking that they could spend all they wanted and depend upon future earnings of dividends for security. We spent more than $10,000,000 on joy rides of one kind or another."

"When the bubble burst and the mortgage on future earnings through margin buying, and credit buying caught up with us, we looked for a place to lay the blame. It was then that politicians and others took advantage of our need and desire for an alibi to blame business. Led by this horde, we blamed the big speculators without remembering that we were speculators."

"We blamed the banker without realizing that it takes two to make a bargain."

What Business Is "It is not too late to remove business from the dog house and again reveal business for what it is. We must sell America and the American people on the fact that business consists of men and women engaged in the producing and exchange of necessities of life and that the local merchant is a part of this business system just as much as is the large corporation."

"When we attack business we never think of the local merchant. We know that he is honest and does not seek to exploit either the employee, shareholder or customer. It is always business 'somewhere else' that is attacked."

"Finally Awake" "These leaders who have aroused the hatred of the American people for business and the American system have aroused antagonism between groups, given distorted ideas of the profits and motives of business. This has been the most serious attack in history, on the most important factor of life."

"In certain communities, business men have encouraged the debate through the belief we can have something for nothing. Now we have awakened from our dream and realize that the old laws have not been repealed and that no new roads to the promised land have been discovered."

"We have realized that the recent

Gudikunt was given first aid at county hospital; companions, Ruby Williams, 16, Long Beach, and Mrs. E. E. Redick, 26, Anaheim, were treated at Santa Ana Valley hospital, the latter for neck injuries.

Mr. Beougher, whose body is at Brown and Wagner funeral chapel, awaiting inquest and funeral arrangements, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Beougher; one step-son, Bert C. Beougher, Anaheim; brother, Fred, Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Walker, San Francisco, and Mrs. Maude Austin, San Diego.

Other Accidents

According to California highway officers, Jack Schoonover, 16, Register carrier, Route 1, Box 807, Orange, was cut and bruised Saturday evening while carrying papers on East Chapman avenue, Orange Park Acres, when his bicycle and car driven by Miss K. E. North, 227 North Center, Orange, collided. It was reported he was riding easterly on the wrong side of the street. It also was reported Jack crashed through the windshield, was badly cut about head and shoulders, had both knees badly hurt and lost much blood.

Duff Gowdy, 17, 820 Kilson drive, suffered puncture wounds, cuts and bruises about the legs when his motorcycle and a truck driven by V. E. Childers, 30, 611 North Bristol, collided at Martha Lane and Bristol, Saturday afternoon. John Thompson, 821 East Bishop, companion of Gowdy, was slightly injured. The boys were taken to county hospital for treatment. Childers said the motorcycle struck the middle of the truck's side.

Mrs. J. Krotz, Santa Ana Gardens, was treated at Santa Ana Valley hospital for injuries received in an accident yesterday. Helen Smith, 22, Hollywood, was injured last night on 161 highway near San Juan Capistrano, when cars operated by Sherman Starr, 32, Hollywood, and Joe Castro, 26, Bell, collided. Castro was arrested on felony drunk driving charge. Castro assertedly drove on the wrong side of the highway.

Clara Davis 32, Los Angeles, was injured at Orange and Palm, near Anaheim, last night when cars driven by William Davis, 32, Los Angeles, and Charles White, 27, Encanto, Calif., collided in a heavy fog.

The Japanese bombing squadron drew no reply from the Chinese forces. The city was strangely quiet because all anti-aircraft has been removed to Hankow. Remaining residents were apprehensive, believing that the Japanese were aware that Nanking was without air defense.

Prepare For Attack

Japanese warships and airplanes rained hundreds of bombs on Kiangyin in preparation for an attack. A Chinese spokesman asserted that Japanese troops in armored boats which attempted to cross Lake Taihu for an attack on Changshing were repulsed with heavy losses.

Changshing is the other Chinese stronghold in the path of the Japanese drive on Nanking.

surgent drive for immediate business aid which developed during the first week of idleness will endanger or wreck his proposals.

An administration-approved crop control bill designed to stabilize farm income and prevent agricultural scarcity was completed over the week end by the Senate agriculture committee for introduction today. Debate will open tomorrow.

Await Fate of Bill

In the house, where the farm measure is still in committee, an indication that will be given Tuesday as to the fate of the second important special session legislation—the wages and hours bill. Outlook for the labor standards measure was not bright but administration leaders were ready to attempt to blast it out of a rules committee deadlock if Chairman John J. O'Connor, D. N. Y., cannot promise action tomorrow.

Congressional leaders believed that technical obstacles and their promises of tax revision in January had ended the rebel campaign for action at the special session to revise or repeal the undistributed profits tax. But most legislative veterans believed that the administration would be fortunate if the farm bill alone is enacted before January.

Wages Bill Opposed

Strong opposition to the wages-hours bill and the government reorganization bill appeared likely to prevent their enactment at the special session unless there is a speedy change in the outlook. Leaders believed there was a better chance for the national planning measure setting up modified "little TVA" regions if it is brought to debate.

Senate filibustering was scheduled to continue this afternoon against the anti-lynching bill. The obstructionists were assured of success as the farm bill will displace the measure tomorrow.

Although the farm and labor bills were pushed to the front by administration leaders, the campaign for business aid continued to rumble through capital corridors with so-called conservative Democrats and Republicans seeking to keep it moving.

Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., declared that there was more to the problem than mere tax revision.

"The undistributed-profits tax is only one item in this business recession," Borah said. "The law should be modified but not repealed."

"There is a definite uneasiness, a lack of confidence in business. If the President and congress could demonstrate their determination to curtail expenditures rather than increasing taxes, this would go far toward encouraging business and restoring confidence."

YALE STUDENTS IN JAIL MOURN DEFEAT

NEWTON, Mass., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Three Yale students pondered the wages of indiscretion in jail today and agreed that losing to Harvard was never as mournful as this.

Robert P. Humphrey, 20, of Kalamazoo, Mich., William C. Putnam, 19, of Carthage, Mo., and William B. Wilson, 20, of Portland, Me., wearied of sorrowing for the alma mater's football loss and set out in search of solace.

Their wanderings took them to a darkened dormitory at exclusive Lasell Junior college where, one of the trio said, he "knew someone."

It was after midnight. The trio stole into Bragdon Hall. One of them ventured into a bedroom and a girl screamed. When police arrived they found scores of girls in night clothes standing guard over two of the youths in a corridor. The third was trapped in a closet. The prisoners were arrested on drunkenness charges and will be arraigned today.

FULLERTON PICKET LINE DISPERSES

Normal operations at the Foster Sand and Gravel company, Fullerton, were resumed today following the withdrawal of a Teamster's Union picket line at the plant Saturday, it was announced today by R. G. Mulendore, president of the union.

The settlement of the difficulties came about when, according to Mulendore, the company agreed to pay the union prevailing wage of 70 cents per hour until such time that a formal, written agreement could be reached.

A meeting of owners is being planned for tomorrow night, not only to settle the Foster company situation but will embrace most of the trucking companies in the business. It is hoped that an association can be formed and a union agreement can be reached with the association.

H. B. COUPLE TO WED ON NOV. 30

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 22.—Announcement has been made of the engagement of James Farquhar Jr., son of James Farquhar, Huntington Beach publisher and Miss Agnes De Busk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter De Busk, of Wintersburg.

News was received today of the marriage of Glenn Lee in Yuma, Ariz. The bride is a Phoenix girl.

Both young men were star athletes at the local high school and Miss De Busk starred as soloist in a number of operettas in the high school.

Farquhar was a runner up in diving on the Pacific Coast League and played polo while attending university. He is an employee of G. M. A. C. and was transferred to Santa Barbara, where he will make his future home.

The date of the De Busk-Farquhar wedding is tentatively set for November 30 in the United Presbyterian church in Santa Ana.

Lee starred in football and played leading roles in high school plays before entering Arizona State college at Tempe. He is the son of Mrs. Polly Curran, prominent in American Legion auxiliary and Women's club work.

ESTATE VALUED AT $12,840

The estate left at Anaheim by the late Jacob Wittmer, who died August 16, 1934, was valued at $12,840 in an inventory and appraisal filed in superior court today by Howard Irwin, state inheritance tax appraiser.

PATROLMAN SLAYS PROSPECT

SAN GABRIEL, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Harlan Cox, 16, Pomona, was shot to death today by Radio Patrolman Fred Raessler after the youth knocked down the policeman who attempted to question him in an automobile parking lot.

The boy lived with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Way in Pomona. His parents are separated and live in Los Angeles.

STREET CARS NAVY TRIES OUT IN S. D. CRASH COAST DEFENSE

A passenger on one car, Marjorie Terhaggen, said:

Crash Described "I was sitting in the middle of the car. It was very foggy. Suddenly I heard the motorman clang his bell furiously. I looked up to see the other car loom out of the fog. There was a terrific crash."

"I was thrown to the floor, and a dozen other persons smashed over me. Glass flew all around but I wasn't hurt. I helped pull other people out of the car. Many were cut and bleeding, some were screaming, and others were moaning."

Rescuers Hampered

Rescuers were hampered for several minutes, until the high tension electric current could be shut off, as the broken wires threw sparks around the wreckage and partly charged the wrecked cars.

None of the injured suffered shock from the deadly current which ran into the shattered cars, it was said.

Traffic in the vicinity of the wreck was blocked and it will be several hours before service to La Jolla, Ocean Beach, Mission Beach and Pacific Beach can be resumed, it was said.

MOVE TO DANA POINT

DANA POINT, Nov. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Dawson, formerly of Laguna Beach, have moved to Dana Point, where they will occupy the house formerly the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verner C. Beck. The Becks are now living in Laguna Beach.

Petitions filed today in superior court to probate the will of the late W. D. Granger, 82, former Orange banker, and to terminate his joint tenancy interest in certain real and personal property, disclosed an estate value in excess of $50,000, but did not show its full extent.

The widow, Ella P. Granger, of Orange, was sole heir under the will, which concerns bonds, notes and stocks of a value "exceeding $10,000" according to her petition.

At her death the estate goes in equal shares to a daughter, Mrs. Grace Campbell, R. D. 1, Orange, and a son, Earl C. Granger, of San Francisco.

The petition to terminate joint tenancy affects bank deposits aggregating $17,321.01, notes and investments certificates amounting to $15,000, and two parcels of real estate in the Bonnie Brae tract and Grote addition, Orange.

SEEK PRIZEFIGHTER FOR SLAYING GIRL

OAKLAND, Nov. 22.—(UP)—Willie Mitchell, 20-year-old Negro prizefighter, today shot and killed his sweetheart in her apartment then escaped, police reported.

Fannie Noland, 25, Negro, was shot four times. One bullet entered her heart.

Neighbors told police Mitchell became enraged when Miss Noland refused his request to cook him a meal. After shooting her, witnesses said, Mitchell ran outside, leaped over a fence and fled.

A citywide search was started for Mitchell. An all point teletype, description was dispatched to out of town police in the belief he may have left Oakland.

Neighbors said Mitchell carried two revolvers.

CREMATED IN CRASH

MADERA, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Curtis Richardson, 24, of Madera, was burned to death early today when the car in which he was riding crashed into the back of a parked gasoline tank truck and burst into flames on the Golden State highway near here.

Weiman Lindsay, 22, also of Madera, driver of the car, suffered a crushed chest and fractured skull when he was thrown out of the car by the impact.

Mulendore was the speaker at a membership meeting of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. He outlined the program of the national body to revive a public understanding of American business and the American system.

"Albion Are Over" "After three or four years of attacking business, the politicians have finished feeding the public albion. But business learned that these albion have almost cut the throat of business and we had almost ruined ourselves before our awakening," he said.

"The people of America have been told that business has caused all our ills. The sad part of it is that people in business have had a large share in this attack. The attack, however, is always aimed at a scarce crowd, or straw man some place other than our own community."

Spending Spree "We do not realize that during the days of 1929 almost every responsible person in the United States had part in the spending spree that led to the depression everyone was speculating or over-spending thinking that they could spend all they wanted and depend upon future earnings of dividends for security. We spent more than $10,000,000 on joy rides of one kind or another."

"When the bubble burst and the mortgage on future earnings through margin buying, and credit buying caught up with us, we looked for a place to lay the blame. It was then that politicians and others took advantage of our need and desire for an alibi to blame business. Led by this horde, we blamed the big speculators without remembering that we were speculators."

"We blamed the banker without realizing that it takes two to make a bargain."

What Business Is "It is not too late to remove business from the dog house and again reveal business for what it is. We must sell America and the American people on the fact that business consists of men and women engaged in the producing and exchange of necessities of life and that the local merchant is a part of this business system just as much as is the large corporation."

"When we attack business we never think of the local merchant. We know that he is honest and does not seek to exploit either the employee, shareholder or customer. It is always business 'somewhere else' that is attacked."

"Finally Awake" "These leaders who have aroused the hatred of the American people for business and the American system have aroused antagonism between groups, given distorted ideas of the profits and motives of business. This has been the most serious attack in history, on the most important factor of life."

"In certain communities, business men have encouraged the debate through the belief we can have something for nothing. Now we have awakened from our dream and realize that the old laws have not been repealed and that no new roads to the promised land have been discovered."

"We have realized that the recent

CIVIL SERVICE PLAN SET

LAYTON TO URGE SYSTEM TAKE IN ALL BRANCHES

For the principal reason of canvassing votes of the recent election at which police and firemen won civil service in Santa Ana for their departments, city council will meet at 7:30 p. m. today at the city hall.

The civil service proposition carried 2761 to 2068, according to unofficial count.

Discussion Expected

Since Councilman Ernest H. Layton said, now that the people have approved civil service for police and firemen, he would recommend placing all departments under civil service, a discussion of his proposal is expected for tonight.

Other matters which probably will be discussed include recommendation of the chamber of commerce planning committee recommendation that E. Deming Tilton, county planning commission consultant, be appointed as city planning consultant; an ordinance to banish horse race wagering establishments from Santa Ana; the ordinance being aimed at present at the one on West Fourth street.

Measure Is Ready

City Attorney Lew Blodgett has prepared the ordinance for submission to the council.

A protest hearing upon William Ulin's application for permission to place a two-family dwelling at the northwest corner of Eighth and Garvey is scheduled.

An ordinance, ordered by council, to "close-out" the "close-outers," those who advertise "close-out" sales repeatedly, without intention of quitting business, also is scheduled for presentation to council.

Burglar Enters Homes In Anaheim

Money and jewelry were stolen by a burglar who entered two homes in Anaheim last night. He was frightened away from a third.

Robert Koonitz, of 605 North Clementine, reported that money and jewelry were stolen after a screen had been forced open. G. A. Koonitz, of 601 North Clementine, father of Robert Koonitz, reported that he found a window broken when he returned home. Apparently the burglar had been frightened away before he entered the house.

George Englehart, of 412 North Janss, lost a $50 ring, $25 cameo brooch, fountain pen, unset pearl and money. Fingerprints were found in the Englehart home. Police believe that one man did all three jobs.

H. B. Yule Plans To Be Outlined

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 22.—Plans for the Christmas lighting program and pre-Christmas festival will be discussed at the dinner of the retail merchants division of the chamber of commerce at 6:30 p. m., November 23 at the Golden Bear cafe.

Special awards will be given for the best window displays featuring originality, color, beauty and theme. Mayor W. H. Warner will express his views for decorating the city in genuine holiday attire, and a special speaker will give an address on the subject.

The merchants pre-Thanksgiving festival held in the downtown district Saturday night was a huge success. Secretary W. H. Gallienne presided over the ceremonies.

New Hoop Teams Formed at Beach

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 22.—Two more girls' basketball teams have been organized in Laguna Beach and during the last fortnight have played several snappy practice games at high school gymnasium, under the auspices of the recreation commission and the Orange County WPA recreation projects.

The line-ups include: "BLUES", Mrs. Wayman Johnson, rf.; Margaret Harvold, lf.; K. Johnson, c.; L. Smith, c.; Hilda Colley, rg.; Alice Andrus, lg.; "WHITE", Wilma Hatch, rf.; M. Harrison, lf.; D. Johnson, c.; W. Whitehead, c.; Gene Doolittle, fg.; Esther Deffley, lg.

Mrs. William Laird is manager for both teams, which will play games with various local and out-of-town basketball teams during the coming season. Helen Colley referees, and Winnie Booth umpires, during the weekly practice games.

Grade Mothers Guests At Tea

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 22.—A get-together tea, planned by the grade mothers of the sixth and eighth grades was attended by more than 60 mothers in the sewing room of the Washington school Friday afternoon.

Mrs. A. J. Hayman, program chairman, was in charge of a get acquainted game and presented a one act playlet, which had been written by Mr. Hayman. Taking part with Mrs. Hayman were Mrs. Bell and Miss Marcella Turner.

The eighth grade mothers served fancy sandwiches, wafers and salted nuts with tea. The tea table was centered with fall fruits and tall yellow candles.

PLAN I. O. O. F. PARTY
FULLERTON, Nov. 22.—The annual "turkey" party of the Odd Fellows lodge, of Fullerton will be Monday night, at 8 o'clock at Odd Fellows temple. Turkeys will be awarded as prizes at card games.

YORBA SCHOOL PLEAS TO BE HEARD SOON

Petitions signed by heads of families in the Yorba school district, asking that the territory be returned to the Placentia unified district, from where it was transferred to the Yorba Linda district last term, will be filed tomorrow by County School Superintendent Ray Adkinson with County Clerk Basil J. Smith, to be presented to the board of supervisors.

Hearing on the petitions before the supervisors will be fixed for December 7, said Adkinson, reiterating a previous announcement of the date.

Decision Deferred

The county superintendent said he has not yet decided what his recommendation to the supervisors will be as to granting or denying the re-transfer of the Yorba territory.

When the Yorba patrons petitioned last term to be transferred from Placentia to Yorba Linda, Adkinson recommended against it, but the supervisors granted the requested change in boundaries. After a brief affiliation with Yorba Linda, during which many of the Yorba pupils remained in attendance at the Placentia schools, approximately 200 family heads now have petitioned for return to Placentia district.

NEWPORT FISHING BOAT GIVEN TOW

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 22.—Heading for Newport harbor with a heavy load of fish, C. C. LaBelle aboard the power boat Mary L. was forced to call for aid when the motor stalled and the craft started to sink off Laguna Beach Friday.

The deck was nearly awash when Walter Brooks aboard the Georgia cast him a line and started for port. The tow required four hours.

Earlier in the week Chester Ingelhart and Harry Martin, operating the Ida May, owned by Fred Storey, were forced to load their mackerel catch aboard Captain Barnes' boat Walf when their craft started to sink. Manning the pumps, they were towed to port by a third boat, Rena, skippered by Cy Miller.

Three fish canneries are now operating in Newport, providing employment for 300 fishermen and a large staff of cannery workers.

If the hand or emergency brake is difficult to release try depressing the foot brake pedal as far as possible and then operate the hand brake.

VIENNA CHOIR SINGS TUESDAY

Coming to Santa Ana tomorrow as the opening event of the Behymer-Wilson Artist Series, sponsored this year in Santa Ana by the Santa Ana Musical Arts Club, the Vienna Boys' Choir will give two concerts.

The first program, for school children will be given at 1:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium and will be followed by a second performance at 8:30 p. m., also in the auditorium. Each concert will feature a different program.

Program Varied

Both afternoon and evening programs will include national folk and sacred songs, a classical repertoire and an operetta.

Clarence Gustlin, founder and past president of the Musical Arts group in Santa Ana, said today that the Vienna Boys' Choir is one of the most famous musical organizations touring America at this time. It has a tradition reaching back more than 500 years and has numbered some of the world's most famous musicians, as members.

Interest in the series of programs sponsored each year by the Santa Ana Musical Arts Club, according to Gustlin, is increasing. This was indicated by the fact that there are 200 more season tickets already requested than were issued all last year.

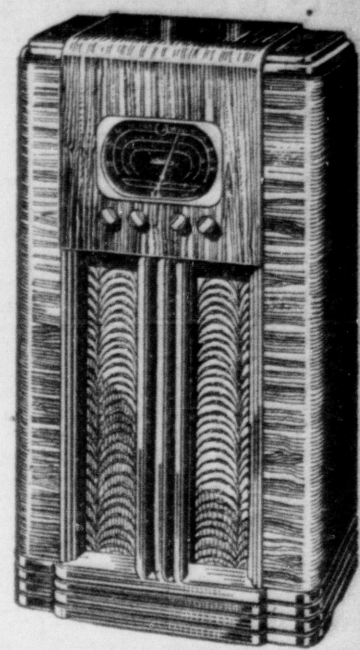

Fuel for testing is now brought to United States from Hong Kong, China, Southampton, England, Fairbanks, Alaska and Buenos Aires. This is a result of the continued projection of new Pan American air routes by the company.

INTRUDERS COOK, SLEEP IN HOME

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 22.—Intruders who entered the residence of Mrs. W. A. Johnston, at 710 Ocean boulevard, Corona Del Mar, made themselves right at home, according to a report to the Newport police Saturday.
As Mrs. Johnston is a resident of San Marino, the house was vacant several days last week and the intruders took advantage of the situation, sleeping in the beds and cooking several meals. They took a radio and a linen set when they left, leaving behind a tooth brush and a tube of tooth paste. This is the second time the home has been burglarized.

MAN HELD AFTER CHECK IS CASHED

Upon report of a local department store detective, Aurelio Tirado, 22, alias Y. Tirado, 808 Emmett street, Santa Ana, was jailed here Saturday night on charges passed a similar check at the same amount of $56.47.
It was asserted Tirado also passed a similar check at the same store November 13, in the amount of $64.88. John Maring, whose name was signed to the check, told officers he did not issue the check, and never signed his name. "John Maring," Tirado alleged an Orange man accustomed to lend him $5 if he got the check cashed.

DEATH NOTICES

BOUGHNER—Accidentally killed at West 17th and Wright streets, Saturday afternoon, November 20, Dr. Edwin Julius Boughner, 71 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Boughner, one step-son, Bert C. Boughner, Anaheim; one brother, Fred, of Los Angeles; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Walker, of San Francisco, and Mrs. Maude, of Santa Ana. Announcement of funeral services will be made later by Brown and Wagner.

RAUGH—At her residence, 721 South Birch street, November 21, 1937, Mrs. Jessie Wealthy Raugh, aged 71 years. She is survived by her husband, Dr. J. M. Raugh, of Los Angeles; one son, Mabel Glasgow, of Highland, Calif.; and one nephew, Clyde Glasgow, of Redlands, Calif. Funeral services will be held from the Winthier Mortuary chapel, Wednesday, November 24, at 2 p. m. Rev. H. I. Rasmus, pastor of the First Methodist church of Redlands, followed by cremation at Fairhaven cemetery.

BENEDICT—In Santa Ana, November 20, Edwin Julius Benedict, age 72 years. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Marie Rolling, of Seattle, Wash.; one sister, Mrs. Nell Winslow, and one brother, George Benedict, of Santa Ana. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 22, in the new Brown and Wagner funeral chapel, 204 West Seventeenth street. Rev. Perry F. Schrock will officiate. Interment will follow in the family plot in Fairhaven cemetery.

BELTY—At the Orange county hospital, November 21st, Ricardo O. Belty, age 70 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Belty, three sons, Reggy, Richard, and Al Belty; two daughters, Francis and Clara Belty; three brothers, John, Richard and Camellio Belty, all of Santa Ana. Funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in St. Joseph Catholic church, with Rev. Father O'Brien officiating. Interment in the family plot in Holy Sepulcher cemetery.

WALLACE—Last night at the Olive View Veterans hospital, near San Fernando, Charles Wallace, former member of the Orange police force and later a resident of La Habra. Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Queenie Wallace, two daughters, two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Blossiey, of Corona, and Mrs. Rose Huffman, of Orange; and one brother, Ray Wallace, of Costa Mesa. Funeral services are in charge of the C. W. Coffey establishment. Orange, and details will be announced later.

Support is Urged
Costa Mesa under the supervision of Mrs. Lucille Pinkley is showing one of the finest enrollments ever recorded there. Mrs. Pinkley has the willing support of Mrs. M. J. Fikes, Mrs. L. Lepp, Mr. Grabble, Mrs. George Tenny, Mrs. Bob Erbe, Mrs. Iversen.

Newport, Balboa and Lido Isle under the direction of Thomas E. Bouchey will, without doubt go over the top. Bouchey never fails to put his deals over.
The only difficulty being encountered up to this time is found in the Garden Grove, Bolsa and Alamitos section where H. A. Lake has not been able to secure the cooperation anticipated and unless these communities get behind their chairman it is feared that the quota of 125 members will not be reached.

Santa Ana, with practically every home within or near the city limits canvassed by the largest group of hard working ladies ever to represent the enrollment drive in this territory and a business section headed by Don Jerome has made it possible for Santa Ana to pass its quota of 2000 memberships and complete reports on Wednesday night will record more than 2500 members or an increase over past membership of more than 800 members in Santa Ana alone. Santa Ana's most successful residential drive just completed was headed by the following chairman, Mrs. Ray Atkinson, Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. LeRoy Burns, Mrs. Kenneth T. Conner, Mrs. Lynn Crawford, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. Bob Fernandez, Mrs. Edward Hall, Mrs. Donald Harwood, Mrs. Frank Harwood, Miss Reva Hawkins, Mrs. Floyd Howard, Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer, Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Mrs. B. T. Shifflett, Mrs. A. P. Trawick, Mrs. Franklin West, Mrs. Henry Williams and Mrs. E. R. Lepper for the American Legion auxiliary. RETURNS SO FAR ASSURE GOAL, SAYS HARRISON

"With incomplete returns assuring the most successful enrollment drive in history, southern Orange county may well be proud of the fine response and acceptance of the ideals of the American Red Cross by its citizens."
This was the statement today of J. Wayne Harrison, Red Cross roll call chairman, who accompanied it with a report on the progress of the current campaign, which ends Thanksgiving Day.
Many of the details in his report are as follows:

"Irvine, headed by William Jeffrey was the first district to smash past records, then Laguna Beach, headed by Mrs. Harvey Martin reported quota complete and additional supplies needed. Reports from San Juan Capistrano indicate that they will double their membership this year under the fine leadership of G. B. Evans and final reports just received from San Clemente with twice as many members as last year. San Clemente is headed by Mrs. F. S. Neddermeyer who was assisted by Wendell B. Lovell, Richard Parker, Mrs. T. C. Bowles, Miss Effie Johnston, Mrs. Litton Thomas, Miss Jennie Lane and Mrs. Sara Rogers.

To Reach Quotas
"Seal Beach, Sunset Beach, Anaheim Landing and Surf Side Colonies, under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Ekberg are expected to reach their quota today. Mrs. Ekberg is assisted by Miss Alice Dodge, Miss Grace Haskell, Miss Betty Lutz, Mrs. M. A. Morrison, Mrs. Ruby Mayes, Miss Pearl Fuller, Miss Dugrae Schurett, Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Donna Carpenter, Mrs. Coda Armistage and the Adams Hardware.

"Huntington Beach, Talbert, Ocean View and Midway City, under the chairmanship of Del Burry will pass their quota today. Mrs. Burry is assisted by Mrs. May Jackson, Mrs. Vera Burry, Mrs. Mable Overmyer, Mrs. Julia Ward, Mrs. Pearl Smith, Miss Sarah Whitfield, Mrs. Mildred Ridenour, Mrs. Lucille Orans, Mrs. Mae Barnes, Mrs. Opal Presson, Mrs. Marion Trichter, Mrs. Grace Womelsdorf, Mr. Frank Brooks, Mr. John Waage, Mrs. Alice Freeman, Mrs. Willis Warner, Mrs. Ila Dabney, Mrs. Maud Patrick, Mrs. Mae Benning, Mrs. Bernice Mohr, Mrs. Olive Larter, Mrs. Marion Miller, Mrs. Carolyn Hunter, John Peterson, Mrs. Francis McCormick, Mrs. Willie Spafford, Mrs. Raymond Elliot, Miss Agnes Smith, Mrs. Mary Goodman, Dr. L. F. Whittaker.

Support is Urged
Costa Mesa under the supervision of Mrs. Lucille Pinkley is showing one of the finest enrollments ever recorded there. Mrs. Pinkley has the willing support of Mrs. M. J. Fikes, Mrs. L. Lepp, Mr. Grabble, Mrs. George Tenny, Mrs. Bob Erbe, Mrs. Iversen.

Newport, Balboa and Lido Isle under the direction of Thomas E. Bouchey will, without doubt go over the top. Bouchey never fails to put his deals over.
The only difficulty being encountered up to this time is found in the Garden Grove, Bolsa and Alamitos section where H. A. Lake has not been able to secure the cooperation anticipated and unless these communities get behind their chairman it is feared that the quota of 125 members will not be reached.

Santa Ana, with practically every home within or near the city limits canvassed by the largest group of hard working ladies ever to represent the enrollment drive in this territory and a business section headed by Don Jerome has made it possible for Santa Ana to pass its quota of 2000 memberships and complete reports on Wednesday night will record more than 2500 members or an increase over past membership of more than 800 members in Santa Ana alone. Santa Ana's most successful residential drive just completed was headed by the following chairman, Mrs. Ray Atkinson, Mrs. Lyle Anderson, Mrs. LeRoy Burns, Mrs. Kenneth T. Conner, Mrs. Lynn Crawford, Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mrs. Bob Fernandez, Mrs. Edward Hall, Mrs. Donald Harwood, Mrs. Frank Harwood, Miss Reva Hawkins, Mrs. Floyd Howard, Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer, Mrs. Crawford Nalle, Mrs. B. T. Shifflett, Mrs. A. STATE UNABLE TO PAY WIEMAN AS HEAD OF VOCATIONAL WORK

The way for appointment of W. W. Wieman, principal of the Julia Lathrop evening high school, as chief advisor in the local vocational educational program, had been cleared today.

This was the announcement this morning of Goodrich W. Bassett, secretary of the Orange County Builders Exchange, sponsors of the local program, on receipt of word from J. C. Hewick, head of the state vocational education department. Hewick said Wieman was acceptable for the post, and the final action is expected to be taken tonight at the meeting of the board of education.

No Pay Provided
While Wieman is acceptable to the state authorities, the state cannot legally pay him any salary since he is not a craftsman, and any recompense he receives must come from the local school board. Under the law, a craftsman must

COUNTY DAIRY GROUP ELECTS EIGHT HEADS

Election of the board of directors of the dairy department of the Orange County Farm Bureau at the annual meeting of the department held Saturday afternoon was announced today by R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the bureau.

Six members of the board were re-elected for the ensuing year. They were: Ned Clinton, Westminster; E. A. Wakeham, Anaheim; R. F. Hazard, Stephen Grist and William Segerstrom, all of Santa Ana; and J. J. Denni, Anaheim.

Two new members added to the board were: Ben Saber, Santa Ana, and Elmer Ritman, Tustin. The present board will elect two more members and choose their chairman at the next meeting, the date of which has not been set. Ned Clinton was chairman for the last year.

4,000 ATTEND LIBRARY EVENT

Nearly 4000 people attended the various activities of the Julia Lathrop branch library and the junior department in celebration of National Book Week, during the last week, it was announced today by Miss Ethel Walker, head librarian.

The Lathrop library, with an outstanding display of original illustrations and publisher's proofs of illustrations, led in point of numbers with an attendance of more than 3000 children and adults. The junior department accounted for nearly 1000 more attending the six puppet shows and the tea held Saturday.

According to Miss Leona Calkins, librarian of the Lathrop branch, more than 100 people attended the story hour held at the library Thursday afternoon, conducted by Mrs. Juanita Lake. Miss Mary Bowyer, librarian at the junior department, reported more than 800 children attended the puppet shows conducted at the library during the week.

SCOUTS OUTLINE PROGRAM

DR. CLELAND TO SPEAK TONIGHT

Dr. Robert G. Cleland, dean of the faculty at Occidental College, will present his second and concluding lecture on Mexico, at 7:30 p. m. today in the Willard auditorium.

Last week Dr. Cleland summarized the history of Mexico and laid an ample foundation for an understanding of the present day situation. Tonight's discussion will center around the new agrarian policy of the problems involved including the quarrel between the church and the government.

The meeting tonight will be the last for this group until after the Christmas holidays, although the series on psychology under Dr. Davis will continue for two more weeks, December 2 and 9. Thursday of this week being Thanksgiving Day.

THIEVES GET CAR RADIO AFTER CRASH

While Herbert Beatty's wrecked automobile was parked along Seventeenth street between Huntington Beach boulevard and Cannery street, Friday night, thieves carefully unfastened all wire connections to his car radio and stole the radio, he told sheriff's officers yesterday.

Following the wreck, Beatty left the car, went for a tow car. When he returned, he found the radio gone. Beatty, resident of route 3, Santa Ana, valued the radio at $40.

Frank Gilton, route 4, Santa Ana, told sheriff's officers Saturday, thieves stole 20 of his chickens, valued at $25.

WINTER AGENDA TO BE REVEALED HERE TONIGHT

Plans for the winter program of scouting will be discussed when Scoutmasters from all parts of Orange county meet at 7:30 p. m. today in Spurgeon school.

In addition to the scoutmasters, members of the county council will attend the conference.

Will Reveal Aims

Col. M. B. Wellington, head of the county council, will be one of the speakers and will outline the objectives of the organization for the coming year. Calvin McRay, representing the Regional office, also will speak.

One of the outstanding features of the conference will be the showing of a complete motion picture record of the recent Regional Camporee held in Camp Irvine. According to Harrison White, county scout executive, the film is one of the most unusual and complete records ever kept of any scouting event in this county.

Leaders' Conference

Among other phases of the winter program to be discussed will be plans for the Patrol Leaders' Training conference to be held Dec. 10 and the final membership and registration drive scheduled to close Jan. 1.

Plans also will be completed for the winter camp session which will be held, starting Dec. 26 at Camp RoKila in the San Bernardino mountains. Anticipating a large attendance at the camp this year and fearing that a heavy snow between now and the time for the year might prevent the hauling in of supplies, White reported that he has just completed the transporting of two tons of canned foods to the camp. Fresh meats, vegetables and other supplies will be taken in when the scouts move into the area.

White said today that the tentative program being outlined for the winter is one of the most extensive that has ever been undertaken in the county.

CONCERT WILL BE GIVEN AT NEWPORT

A concert for the student body of the Newport Harbor union high school will be performed by the federal music project symphony orchestra, directed by Leon Eckles, at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

A highly selective program has been chosen for the occasion which will begin with the popular Raymond overture (Thomas) and proceed with the Hungarian dances. The closing number, the Juba Dance, abounds in gaiety and brilliance.

Coming events of the orchestra include a series of city school concerts which are to be given in the nature of Christmas programs, beginning Dec. 1. A complete announcement of the schedule will shortly be given out, it was stated by project officials.

Masons Plan To Confer Degrees

Orange Grove lodge, No. 293, F. and A. M., will confer the third degree on candidates at 8 p. m. tomorrow in Masonic temple in Orange. Following the ceremony, refreshments will be served at the Round Table.

H. Z. Adams, secretary of the lodge, issued an invitation to all sojourning Masons to attend the meeting.

PLANS FIRST TRIP EAST IN 12 YEARS

Departure today by train of Dr. Norris D. Cash, 1614 South Main street, for a Thanksgiving visit with his mother, Mrs. E. A. Cash, in Wichita, Kans., will bring to the Santa Anan, his first visit home since he left there in 1925 to come to this community.

In addition to visiting his mother and several brothers and sisters, Dr. Cash also will spend a few days at his alma mater, Kansas State university, Manhattan, Kans., timing his visit there to see the Nebraska-Kansas State game next Saturday. While there he will attend clinics and classes in the division of veterinary medicine.

While in Manhattan, Dr. Cash will visit one of his brothers, Lieutenant A. B. Cash, and will also devote a few days to being with another brother, R. W. Cash in Muscatine, Iowa, as well as two sisters, Mrs. R. A. Ramsey and Mrs. T. S. Carrell, both of Wichita, his mother's home city. His third sister, Mrs. H. L. Glassburn with Mr. Glassburn, is now in California. They have been guests in the Cash home for the past few weeks, and are spending some time also with Mr. Glassburn's parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Terry of Coronado.

WILLIAM BOYD TO HEAD STATE BILL

William Boyd heads the variety program for the State theater Friday and Saturday when he appears in another "Hopalong Cassidy" special, "North of the Rio Grande."

"Big Squirt," all star comedy; a "Porky" cartoon; "Secret Agent X-9," Chapter 6, and newsreel also are offered.

Boyd comes to the screen for the 11th time in the role of the hard-riding, square-jawed "Hoppy," who, within the space of a year, has become the nation's favorite Western hero. With him ride "Windy," played by George Hayes, and "Lucky" Jenkins, portrayed by the handsome newcomer Russell Haden.

Taken from the Clarence E. Mulford novel "Cottonwood Gulch," the story is concerned with the manner in which Cassidy rides a wildcat frontier town of its crook-officials and in the same sweep annihilates a band of train robbers.

Christian Science

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text was from Psalms: "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him."

Among the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon were these verses from Luke: "And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee; and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. . . . And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her; and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy stated: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit."

DISPLAY MWD MAP, PICTURES

Detailed relief map of the Metropolitan Water district's Colorado river aqueduct system in color and 12 photographs of various parts of the construction work are on display in the city hall at present.

The map was built by M. W. D. workers and presented to Santa Ana. Other member cities also were given similar maps and pictures.

The aqueduct, 24 1/2 miles long, consists of 29 miles of tunnel; 55 miles of covered conduit; 63 miles of lined canals; 29 miles of inverted siphon and three reservoirs having 113,300 acre feet capacity, according to relief map data.

The Parker reservoir has an intake capacity of 117,000 feet. There are five pumping stations with pump lift capacity of 1,616 feet power to provide one billion gallons of water daily.

Dinner Observes 35th Anniversary

LIBERTY PARK, Nov. 22. — A dinner party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Eber Flaws at their Liberty Park home honoring Mr. Flaws' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Flaws, of Huntington Beach, who were celebrating their 35th wedding anniversary.

A delicious dinner was served by Mrs. Flaws at the daintily appointed table and a useful gift was presented the honorees by their hosts.

LAST DON-HORNET GAME?

High schools of Santa Ana and Fullerton have agreed to disagree about football, effective next fall and, for once, this department heaves a sigh of relief.

It was time that something drastic be done to curb cute young men who each year vault down from the bleachers and "start something" just as soon as they hear the final gun.

One school was no more to blame than the other; both were looking for trouble every time they met.

Principals Lynn Crawford and A. S. Redfern, long-suffering schoolmen, stood it as long as they could. They counseled wisely when they mutually decided to sever relations. As Crawford put it: "... we lived in fear and trembling for a week before and after the game each year. We knew it was just a question of time until someone was seriously injured. The teams no longer are in the same conference, so there is no reason for them to play again."

I hope this will serve as an object lesson to the cute young men of Santa Ana and Fullerton junior colleges. Because I have it on good authority that Thursday's Don-Hornet conflict will be their last, too, unless they file out of the park like gentlemen when the game is over—win, lose or draw.

Cancellation of this annual Thanksgiving Day match would be a shame, I admit. It has become a sort of institution, something to look forward to each holiday. But my humble opinion is that jays officials, like those of the high schools, should agree to disagree if they no longer can control the actions of their student bodies.

The loss of an eye let alone a life, is not worth any football game ever played.

TROUBLE IN PARADISE

Observer Sports Editor Bob Walton of San Bernardino: "A move has been started in Santa Ana, and possibly echoed in San Bernardino, to take the if-and-when Eastern conference title playoff to Pasadena's Rose Bowl. "Why, I wonder, the Rose Bowl? "Why take a strictly Eastern conference affair out of the geographical boundaries of the conference?"

"Why, when we can have the biggest junior college football maelstrom in conference history, take it so far away from home to slice it?"

"Why give such an event to Los Angeles? It doesn't give its big games to San Bernardino or Santa Ana or to any other place but Los Angeles. "I personally think it is perfectly silly to even consider the Rose Bowl, as fine a spot as it is, in this case."

The game is ours, it belongs at home, in our own conference. Football fans who supported the conference in some of its lesser moments are entitled to have the "gray" without having to travel over half of Southern California to get it."

Columbert Walton drives home his point with vigor and force, but I don't agree with him. Knowing neither Santa Ana nor San Bernardino will agree to play in Santa Ana or San Bernardino. I think there is just one thing to consider: a neutral place where everyone can have a decent seat.

Santa Ana's Municipal Bowl (capacity 8000) will handle the largest crowd in the geographical boundaries of the Eastern conference—and 8000 seats just won't be enough. Fullerton and Chaffey have splendid stadiums; Chaffey's is the finest plant in the league. But let's be sensible about it. Neither can accommodate the throng. We know this in advance. Let's do something about it.

If there is some stadium nearer (say Pomona College or Whittier) that seats 15,000 or so, I say let's play there. Otherwise, the only smart thing to do is cast around for a place that WILL handle the crowd.

Pasadena and the Coliseum are the only ones available. The Rose Bowl is as close to San Bernardino as Santa Ana, perhaps nearer. It is equidistant from both cities, and can be had for $100, much less than the 10 per cent revenue levied by the city of Santa Ana for the Bowl—if the teams were to play here.

On second thought, perhaps the Dons and Indians are wiser than Walton and West. While Bob and I are picking them a place to play, (and filling a column on a dull day) Dons and Indians are scared stiff that either Fullerton or Citrus will sneak up Thursday and dynamite the "rematch."

Stranger things have happened.

L. A. BULLDOGS RUN UP 45-26 VICTORY

LOS ANGELES—The Los Angeles Bulldogs, unbeaten and untied, moved closer to an American league championship with a 45-26 victory yesterday over the Boston Shamrocks.

The Bulldogs, sparked by Dave Davis, former Southern California quarterback, spread the Shamrocks' defense with passes and won easily.

LONG BEACH TO BATTLE SAINTS AT BOWL SAT.

Ready for their first shot at the Southern California prep championship in five years, Santa Ana's Saints began practice today for Saturday's C. I. F. playoff game in the Municipal Bowl against Long Beach of the Coast League.

Coming out of Friday's final

TUSTIN-POINT LOMA
Tustin's quest of the Minor schools football championship of Southern California will begin this week against Point Loma, but when and where, nobody knew for sure today. Commissioner Seth Van Pat-ten of the C. I. F. was due at Tustin to go over the situation with Principal J. W. Means and Coach Bill Cole. Point Loma won the Metropolitan league title for the second time last week by routing Oceanside, 64-12. Tustin captured the Orange League crown by topping Brea-Olinda, 13-7.

tussle at San Bernardino in good physical condition, Coach Bill Foote's Citrus Belt league titlists will be at full strength for the first time in weeks.

Dick Horton, scrappy guard, will be ready to start against Long Beach and so will Harry Ashen but Ashen has a tremendous fight ahead to win his job from Ralph Shallenberger, giant sophomore. Shallenberger was moved up from soph team at San Bernardino and played good ball. Foote intends to give him a chance to win his spurs with the first string this week. Shallenberger soars 6'4 and weighs close to 180. He should bolster Santa Ana's pass-defense no little.

The Saint sophomore squad closed its season undefeated last week so Coach Foote has invited the whole outfit to join the varsity for the rest of the season. He plans to give the "babes" some defensive work (as a unit) this week. Shallenberger is not the only soph who has a chance to play against Long Beach. Ralph Barnes, a fine left halfback, and Bobbie Musick, fullback, are two other promising players.

SANTA ANA WINS FROM FULLERTON, 81-70

The Santa Ana Tennis club moved into second place in Citrus Belt league standings yesterday by defeating Fullerton, 81 to 70, at Fullerton. Santa Ana now has a point aggregate of 260 to Fullerton's 254, but faces an impossible situation in overtaking Pomona's leaders. Santa Ana would have to beat Perris Hills 151-0 next Sunday to have a chance to win the championship.

The summary:

Men's singles: McManus (F) d. Blair (SA) 4-6, 6-1, 6-4; White (SA) d. Silverwood (F) 3-6, 6-4, 6-0; Blakemore (SA) d. Ashton (F) 6-2, 6-0; Jacobs (SA) d. A. Myers (F) 6-4, 7-5; Cooper (SA) d. Grafton (F) 6-0, 7-5.

Doubles: Parks and Hobson (F) d. Heath and Aubrey (SA) 5-7, 6-0, 6-4; Boege and R. Meyers (F) d. Ranney and Cress (SA) 6-2, 6-2; Pike and Mallard (F) d. Knight and Glenn (SA) 6-1, 6-1.

Women's singles: M. Blair (SA) d. K. Wood (F), default; Van Hooven (F) d. K. Williams (SA) 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

Mixed doubles: Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Ward d. W. Hanson and H. Lang (F) 6-4, 2-6, 7-5.

ALL IN FUN

This may be an explanation why Indiana upset Ohio State, 10-0: Bo McMillin's last-minute instructions were for the Hoosiers to "relax and go out there and have some fun."

What Matter Sniffles With Beauty Like This?

Winter may mean nothing but colds, coal bills and frozen radiators to some folks, but sports enthusiasts are treated to gloriously beautiful scenes like the one shown above when Old Man Winter lays his icy hand on the hills and valleys of Yosemite National Park. Sunlight from a cloud-flecked sky filters down on white-tinseled fir trees to create a framework of lengthening shadows for the skiers. Note the herringbone pattern made by the out-flung skis in the laborious upward climb which must precede every thrilling glide back down to the valley.

Emily Post Should Be Official If Bears Pick 'High Motive' Foe

BY HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO—The original ideal of the Rose Bowl game was to match the best team in the West with the strongest eleven of any other section of the country in the hope that the outstanding football game of the year would be the result.

This year, however, there is a feeling that the California Bears, who will represent the West at Pasadena on New Year's Day, are going to make a radical departure from the original plan. The Bears, one hears, plan to select a Rose Bowl opponent on an entirely new basis.

Football ability will be relatively unimportant. California seeks a foe whose ideals would make those of Sir Galahad appear as tawdry as a second-story worker's; whose scholastic standards are so high that Einstein would have to take entrance examinations; and whose sportsmanship is so pronounced that they would put the fox on horseback and let him chase them. In other words, or rather in California's own words, we desire to meet a team from a school whose standards are the same as ours.

If the Bears find such a team to oppose them, the Rose Bowl game should be interesting to watch. Everything, of necessity, will be a little different. The officials, of course, will be of the same high calibre as the teams. I suggest Nicholas Murray Butler for referee; the Archbishop of Canterbury as umpire; Chief Justice Hughes as field judge, and Emily Post, of course, for head linesman.

I can visualize the kick-off and the first few minutes of play. Dr. Butler, wearing cap and gown and carrying a lyre instead of a whistle, would call the two captains to the center of the field and after a few brief words of instruction in Latin, the winner of the toss, would insist that the loser take first choice.

Then the 22 Phi Beta Kappa with a great show of fine fellowship laughingly would take their places on the field. The kick-off would be ignored because with the roar of the crowd the 22 scholars would whip out their notebooks to record their observations of "gob psychology. Justice Hughes would dissent and the games would go on.

The first huddle would take 45 minutes because one of the learned group would be bound to ask some provocative question concerning Elizabethan or De Vinci as the world's greatest mind. This, naturally, would result in an informal discussion group. During the delayed huddle, the opponents would break into small groups. Some would debate, some would hold spelling bees, some would utilize the time in writing to their mothers, enclosing report cards.

Finally the game would be resumed with the thoughtful quarterbacks calling only for those plays which would send the ball-carriers through positions deferred by men majoring in the same subjects as they. This would provide for spirited little discussions on familiar subjects as the players untangled themselves.

After the game the players would all go to the public library and break training by reading Esquire.

VILLANOVA OFF TO PLAY LIONS

LOS ANGELES — Coach Tom Lieb's Loyola Lions find themselves in the center of the football spotlight this week as they prepare for the Los Angeles invasion of Villanova, undefeated in eight games and the strongest defensive eleven in the East.

Villanova's squad leaves Philadelphia today and is scheduled to stop for a workout in a St. Louis baseball park Tuesday. The following day they are to workout at Kansas City, and again at Albuquerque, N. M., arriving in Los Angeles Saturday, one day before the game in the Coliseum.

A brilliant trail is being blazed by Maurice "Clipper" Smith in his second year at Villanova, which has successfully defeated Pennsylvania Military academy, Manhattan, Bucknell, Detroit, Marquette, Boston University and Temple and played a scoreless tie with the powerhouse Auburn squad.

"Clipper," who won popularity with coast fans when tutoring at Gonzaga and Santa Clara, is now concentrating on his final game of the season in order to chalk up a clean slate for 1937. His Wildcats have a well-timed running attack based on the speed of six lightning backs and a pair of fast guards. This, coupled with the pass receiving ability of John Wysocki, All-America end candidate, makes the boys from the Philadelphia suburb heavy favorites.

Loyola's chances will depend much on the passing of Jack Lyons, a transfer from University of Southern California, playing his first year of varsity football. If he can pitch strikes as accurately as in the Lions' last two battles, the Los Angeles team has a chance for an upset victory.

HAS SOMETHING

When Charlie Bachman took over the coaching job at Michigan State five years ago his squad numbered just 22 candidates. Since then it has doubled in size, with 64 boys having reported this season.

RECALL FORMER GRID THRILLERS WITH 'JACKETS'

BY DUNCAN CLARK

With premature Thanksgiving Day enthusiasm checked by Santa Ana and Fullerton junior college authorities after a no-game edict if "campus raiding" continued, "Big Game" ballyhoo jumped back on the sport pages again today.

Both coaches Bill Cook of the Dons and Wendell Pickens of Fullerton face the problem of fielding their teams at 2 p. m. here Thanksgiving Day with only three days of preparation.

Pre-game enthusiasm indicates the largest crowd to ever attend a Don-Yellowjacket game. Santa Ana city officials will have extra bleachers in readiness in case of an overflow crowd, which seems almost a certainty.

Chalking up their 20th game without defeat last Friday night against Salinas, the Cookmen lost two of their finest defensive men. Both are centers. Danny Boyd, as fine a snapper-back as there is in the entire Eastern conference, will be out of the Fullerton game with a crushed chest. Jerry Nesmith, 200-pound Anaheim freshman, sustained a fractured bone in his foot.

Elmer Casey, lanky Oceanside boy, will move into the first string center's position, spelled by Jack Lentz. There was some talk that Cy Leivermann, six-six tackle, would take a whirl at center.

Meanwhile, football followers of both Santa Ana and Fullerton recalled past games between their teams. Many thrillers have been played by the Dons and 'Jackets, and always the underdog has turned in a better performance than expected, winning on several occasions. Past games in brief:

1927—Inaugurating its reign over the Dons, Fullerton won, over both Chaffey and Riverside earlier by 24-13 and 30-0 scores.

1928—Fullerton steamrollered the Dons 20-6, after the Dons had beaten both Chaffey and Riverside by 12-0 scores.

1929—Trailing 13-0 at the half, the Dons came back and won this one with a pass that was in the air at the gun sounded. The Dons went on to win the Southern California junior college championship.

1930—This was a tie year, 13-13.

1931—Fullerton won 19-12 at Poly field in a thriller.

1932—Leading 13-0 at the half, the Dons folded and Fullerton scored twice to win, 14-13, in the final two minutes.

1933—A touchdown pass, Hal Welty to Walt Gunther, saved the day for Santa Ana, who won 6-0, after Fullerton had kicked an early field goal. The Dons won, 6-3, Santa Ana was to take the Southern California play-off game with Los Angeles, 7-6.

1934—Burt Kidd, Fullerton's sensational punter, kept an outclassed Yellowjacket eleven in the game with towering punts of which several were kicked from back of his own goal but the Dons won 6-0.

1935—John Lehnhardt passed to End Fred Erdhaus to give the Dons their first score just before the end of the half. The play was from Fullerton one foot line. John Lehnhardt scored the extra point on a lateral pass from Fred Erdhaus to Herbert, a former Fullerton high school player passed to Erdhaus in the final quarter on the "Jackie" yard line. Erdhaus rammed the remaining distance to pay dirt.

S. A. OFFICIALS DENY PLAYOFF VOTE

Director D. K. Hammond and Coach Bill Cook both denied knowing anything of a proposed plan whereby the Eastern conference representative in the Southland playoffs would be picked by a vote of league officials in case of a tie between Santa Ana and San Bernardino jays.

A Los Angeles paper came out this morning with the statement that Eastern conference officials would wait until after their final league games Thanksgiving Day before deciding which was to represent the league in the Southern California playoff game. The Western division was deciding today who would enter the play-off by a vote of the schools. Either Ventura or Los Angeles, who tied at the end of their regular conference schedule, will be selected.

Baseball, an old conservative sport, was not too proud to aid the defense by legislating against the offensive measures as the spit and shine ball and other trick pitches, and in stalling the lively ball.

"Why," queries Buck Shaw, "should not football similarly curb the now unlimited privileges of the defense?"

Don Lash Sets World Record For Four Miles

EAST LANSING—Don Lash, Indiana university distance runner, broke the American record in the four mile run on a snow covered track here today.

The Olympic star's time for the distance was 19 minutes, 17 seconds. The former record, set in 1913 by Hans Kolehmainen of Finland was 20 minutes and 2 seconds.

MOVIES BECKON

Ward Cuff, former Marquette fullback, whose 42-yard field goal enabled the New York Giants to tie the Chicago Bears, is considering an offer for a screen test.

Oh, Ohio!

Small wonder that Jim McDonald scored a touchdown in the first four minutes of Ohio State's game with Illinois. Just before he took the field, the Buckeyes' co-captain and quarterback was given a rousing sendoff by pretty Ellen Morley of Cleveland Heights, homecoming queen.

Several players, like Vic Bottari, said "bring us anybody, we don't care" and Coach Leonard (Stub) Allison said the same thing.

Indications were that Bear officials will withhold their selection until next week, apparently to await developments on the Western and Southern fronts, where the supposed Big Three—Pitt, Alabama and Fordham—complete their schedules. Alabama meets Vanderbilt, another eligible, at Nashville Thursday; Pitt meets Duke at Durham, N. C. Saturday; Fordham plays N. Y. U. in New York Saturday.

Allison permitted the squad to break training after Saturday's 13-0 clincher over Stanford before 85,000 persons, the season's greatest crowd.

"If they want to, they can go out and smoke big black cigars," the coach said. "But they'll probably get sick if they do."

The Bears will forget football until December 1, when they assemble again for light practices for the Rose Bowl engagement. The light work will continue until December 17, the day of the last final examination. In the last two weeks, hard work will be in order.

Last Saturday's games completed the Pacific Coast conference schedule with the exception of a U. S. C.-U. C. L. A. game set for December 4 at Los Angeles.

Far western teams play Thursday, Saturday and Sunday this week.

Important games this week include:

Thursday—Arizona vs. Colorado State at Tucson; San Jose State at San Diego State at San Jose; Nevada vs. Willamette at Reno; Montana vs. North Dakota at Missoula, and Fresno State and College of Pacific for the Far Western conference title at Fresno.

Saturday: Notre Dame vs. U. S. C. at South Bend; U. C. L. A. vs. Missouri at Los Angeles; U. S. F. vs. Michigan State at San Francisco; San Diego Marines vs. Oregon at San Diego; and Columbia vs. Stanford at New York.

Sunday: Santa Clara, unbeaten and untied, vs. Gonzaga at Sacramento; Loyola vs. unbeaten Villanova at Los Angeles.

In Saturday's play Montana suffered its first defeat of the year, with Idaho's 6-0 win spoiling the Grizzlies' perfect record; Washington trimmed Oregon, 14-0, for the second straight year; Washington State closed its season with a 7-0 win over Oregon State, which also played its last 1937 game; Southern Methodist passed to a 26-13 win over C. L. A.; Baylor defeated Loyola 7-0; Arizona trimmed Kansas 9-7; Fordham beat St. Mary's 6-0; and San Jose State defeated Tempe, 25-6. Gonzaga beat Portland, 3 to 2.

Other scores included Occidental 13 Pomona 0; San Diego State 13, Santa Barbara State 0;

Jack Robertson (defeated D. G. Ross, 2 and 1) vs. C. D. Holmes, Jr. (d. Ben Manker, 2 up); A. E. Watson (d. A. A. Mary, one up) vs. H. S. Wright (d. Dean Campbell, one up); E. H. Guthrie (d. Dean Collier, one up) vs. A. W. Robinson (d. Pat Kelley, 2 and 1); Harry Olson (d. William Rohrbacher) vs. Milt Johnson (d. Ed Holmes);

W. W. Foote (d. Fay Hochstrasser, one up, 19th hole) vs. Ross Hostetter (d. Forest Neal); J. W. Beach (d. L. W. Bemis) vs. Earl Wilson (d. Bill Emery); F. E. Farnsworth (d. C. W. Hill) vs. Bob Weston (d. H. A. Walker); L. H. Robinson (d. George Baker) vs. Dick Ewert (d. C. H. Hoiles).

Fullerton connected for eight blows off Bob Drysdale, bespectacled Santa Ana electrician, who weakened after five innings of sparkling mound work.

SANTA ANA

FOOTBALL SEASON GOES INTO LAST WEEK

JAYSEE CAGERS AT CAPISTRANO: TELL SCHEDULE

Santa Ana junior college's promising basketball team travels to San Juan Capistrano tonight to meet the strong "Town Team" of the Mission City in the high school gym.

Opposing players picked from past San Juan Capistrano high school teams which won Orange county championships. The Dons are expected to have stern competition.

This will be the Dons' fourth practice game of the season. Boosty intimates that he would start his strongest combination, which means that Charles (Chuck) Barrett and Charles (Chuck) Hall will be at center, Kenny Marshall and Del Holland at guards, Captain Don Randall, Ernie Barrett, Bob Fowler, Bob Clark and Fred Schweigert are others expected to see action.

Don practice schedule:
Dec. 1—Santa Ana at Compton. (Double-header).
Dec. 7—Bank of America (LA) at Tustin gym.
Dec. 10—Pacific Coast Club (Long Beach) at Tustin gym.
Dec. 14—LaVerne College varsity at Tustin gym.
Dec. 15—Woolen Mills at Tustin gym.

Dec. 17-18—Chaffey Invitational Tournament at Ontario.
Dec. 28—Compton at Tustin gym (double-header).
Dec. 29—Long Beach at Tustin gym.

Dec. 31—Sacramento J. C. at Tustin gym.
Jan. 4—Santa Ana vs. Ontario Y. M. C. A. at Ontario.
Jan. 11—Santa Ana at LaVerne.

Santa Ana's first eastern conference game is slated for Jan. 14 at Fullerton.

TOUGH ON BRONK

Bronko Nagurski, the Chicago Bears' thundering fullback, says he took the worst beating of his eight-year gridiron career in the Bear-Detroit Lions game of this season.

STARTED FROM SCRATCH

Glenn (Pop) Warner, who gets $20,000 a year for coaching the Temple University football team, received no more than $80 for six weeks work as coach of the Iowa State team back in 1895.

AT THE TRACKS

TANFORAN TRACK. — High exhibit, 112; Lady Bowman, 110; L. Greenock, 110; Primulus, 110; Toroloe, 109; Rockwood, 108; Party Spirit, 108; Your Honor, 107; Quel Jeu, 107; Yule Star, 106.

The Portola starts off the second week of racing at Tanforan—a week which includes two other fixtures the $2000 added Thanksgiving Handicap, Tuesday at six furlongs. He was accorded this honor by Racing Secretary Julius G. Reeder who ranks him above Indian Broom, Alviso and Tick On, levelly weighted at 115 pounds, as well as the other topliners in the Portola.

Weights on the other stars in the encounter are Saburo, 114; Ariel Cross, 114; Gleeman, 113; The Fighter, 113; Happy Boliver, 113.

High Strike, star juvenile of the California Summer and Fall racing probably will defend his honors in the A. B. Spreckels—a race named in honor of the late sportsman who bred the Kentucky Derby winner, Morvich and also bred the famous Runstar as well as other good ones.

The week's racing also will provide numerous overnight features, allowance and distance races. Titans for the Western turf clash at Tanforan in the Thanksgiving Day Handicap.

Amor Brujo, Argentine-bred star and hailed as the greatest threat to Seabiscuit and War Admiral in American training, will make his debut.

Chanceview, top mudder of the country, just purchased by Charles S. Howard for a reported sum of $20,000, will make his first start of his California fall campaign.

Sargazo, Argentine stablemate of Amor Brujo, will run coupled with the black five-year-old thunderbolt as the entry of Horace Luro, noted Argentine breeder and A. E. Silver, owner of Sargazo and trainer of both horses.

In addition to these topliners, Harry Hatch will send an entry, Sweepstaff and Ariel Cross, into action; the Long Run stable has nominated Marynell; Sobriety will represent the Boeing and Beeley stable; while F. M. Carl's Wildland and Mrs. E. Voynow's Rommy complete the list of nine nominations today released by Racing Secretary Reeder.

Amor Brujo hasn't started since July at Uruguay but his trials indicate that he is ready to meet first class opposition at first asking. He is a track record holder in Uruguay and was victorious in the $75,000 International race there.

If the racing strip remains opposing a Tarter in the mud running Chanceview, which in Alfred Gynne Vanderbilt's silks vanquished every good horse in winter training through the mud at Santa Anita last meeting, and only recently captured the Prince George Handicap at Bowie over a muddy course.

Games in the Southwest are Arizona-California State; Texas-Texas A. and M. and Texas Tech-Creighton.

Kansas and Missouri meet in the only Mid-West game while in the Far West College of Pacific draws Fresno State and San Diego State plays at San Jose State.

Army, Navy Tangle Saturday. Saturday's program is headed, of course, by the annual game between Army and Navy in Philadelphia. Several other important games are due in the East, notably Fordham vs. New York U. and Stanford vs. Columbia. Fordham needs a victory over N. Y. U. to finish its season unbeaten and keep the record straight in case of a Bowl bid. The same is true for Pittsburgh, which takes on Duke in Pittsburgh. Boston College tackles Holy Cross, and Catholic U. closes against South Carolina in Washington, D. C.

Southern schedule: Louisiana State-Tulane, Auburn-Florida and Georgia-Georgia Tech. Southwest: Baylor-Rice, Southern Methodist-Texas Christian, Centenary-Oklahoma A. and M. U.C.L.A.-Missouri, University of San Francisco-Michigan State and Gonzaga-Santa Clara (Sunday).

TROJANS MEET N. D.; INDIANS FACE COLUMBIA

By LESLIE AVERY

(United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK.—Returns from the 1937 football season today gave California — The Western Rose Bowl bid, and the Pacific Coast title.

Minnesota — The Western conference championship.

Harvard — The mythical "Big Three" crown.

"Stub" Allison's Golden Bears cleared the last obstacle from the path to Pasadena Saturday when they ended their conference schedule with a 13-0 victory over Stanford. Only undefeated team in the conference, California piled up 137 points against its opponents' 28 in winning nine and tying one.

Although beaten outside of the Big Ten by Notre Dame and Nebraska, Minnesota's Gophers ended their season with a 13-4 victory over a stubborn Wisconsin eleven. It was their fifth straight conference victory and it regained for them the conference title.

Harvard Stops Yale

In one of Saturday's prize surprise packages, Harvard licked Yale, 13-6, to annex the "Big Three" laurels for the first time in 22 years. It was Yale's only defeat.

With North Carolina having clinched the Southern crown the week previous with a victory over Duke, four major conference championships remain to be decided—Southeastern, Southwestern, Big Six and Rocky Mountain. All but the Southwestern will be determined this week, but this title may depend upon outcome of the Rice-S. M. U. game Dec. 4.

The "perfect record" list was trimmed to four when Montana was upset 6-0 by Idaho. Lafayette closed its season unbeaten and untied, with a 6-0 decision over Lehigh. The others—Colorado, Santa Clara and Alabama—were idle.

Except for the "bowl" engagements, and a few post-season games in the South, Southwest and Pacific Coast, this week's contests wash up the 1937 football schedule. They are uniformly divided between Thursday (Thanksgiving) and Saturday.

Tough One for Alabama

Headed by the Thanksgiving Day card is Alabama vs. Vanderbilt at Nashville, Tenn. This one decides Alabama's challenge to the Southern championship as well as a possible Rose Bowl nomination.

Others due Thursday in the South: North Carolina vs. Virginia; Tennessee vs. Kentucky; Mississippi vs. Mississippi State; Arkansas-Tulsa; Maryland vs. Washington and Lee.

A time honored struggle between Cornell and Pennsylvania tops the East's scanty program for Thursday. Duquesne and Detroit tangle, and so do Brown and Rutgers.

The Rocky Mountain region is thankful for a real Turkey Day treat in Colorado vs. Denver (at Denver) for the Rocky Mountain conference title. If Colorado wins, it might land one of the various "bowl" assignments because "Whizzer" White is a much publicized young man. Utah and Utah State clash Thursday; so do Montana and North Dakota.

Games in the Southwest are Arizona-California State; Texas-Texas A. and M. and Texas Tech-Creighton.

Kansas and Missouri meet in the only Mid-West game while in the Far West College of Pacific draws Fresno State and San Diego State plays at San Jose State.

Howser Caulfield's RADIOLAND

•The world will little note our being, remember what we say here—

HOLLYWOOD—DOODLE:

Charlie McCarthy has more expression and character in his face than a good many of our performers. First impression on meeting Rudy Vallee is that he's so small. . . . Amie Virginia Verrill's mother, threw a party Saturday night between the eastern and western editions of Jack Haley's show. The occasion was "Vee's" 21st birthday. And the little gal put in a brave appearance despite an infected wisdom tooth.

Lanny Ross has an engagingly sincere manner in meeting and talking to strangers. . . . Raymond Paige, even when dead tired, never fails to expression enthusiasm. . . . Like Mary's little lamb, the chill of an iceberg follow Frances Langford wherever she goes. But when she sings, that's a different story.

Bing Crosby looks less like a millionaire and a top flight radio and movie star than anyone I can imagine. . . . The "Perfect Servant." You may remember Betty as the leading lady in First Nighter two years ago. (KECA, 5:30)

Charlie Chan makes his radio debut via transcription. It isn't often this department goes out of its way to recommend transcribed programs but we believe this one worthy of exception.

For one thing you'll find Cy Kendall playing the title role. Here is a great actor that will some day be recognized as such. Another excellent reason is that Felix Mills will do the music. Still another is that Cyril Armstrong directs. And the Raymond R. Morgan Co. is producing. This is the same combination which gave us the excellent Strange As It Seems series. (KNX, 5:15)

The Philadelphia Orchestra, Alexander Smallens conducting, presents "La Boheme," with Susane Fisher, Lucy Monroe and Armand Tokiyan singing the major roles. This is the first time this orchestra has brought opera to the air. (KECA, 6)

Herbert Marshall is almost becoming a regular on DeMille's Radio KFI—Tonight he'll make his fifth appearance when he plays part of the wandering hero, Alan Squier, in the Robert Sherwood play, "The Petrified Forest."

Margaret Sullivan plays the role of Betty Davis essayed on the screen. (KNX, 6)

GARDEN GROVE MAN WRITES OF WAR IN ORIENT

"If their ammunition holds out long enough, the Chinese will be victors in the current Sino-Japanese war," says R. C. Wohosky of Garden Grove in a recent letter sent from the U.S.S. Blumer (222) where he has been stationed at Shanghai with the Asiatic fleet.

From the outskirts of the din and battle in China comes the local man's written picture of the war-torn land. "The Chinese are having a difficult time in getting supplies, but they are more than holding their own in the war," he writes.

Leaves Manila

The letter was written in Shanghai, October 18, and at that time Wohosky's boat was moored to the Texaco Oil pontoon. He describes his journey to China in the following:

IT'S SO EASY TO STOP DRINKING IN 48 HRS.

FARM BUREAU SEEKS REVISION OF FREIGHT RATES ON LETTUCE

The Orange County Farm Bureau today joined the California Farm Bureau Federation in asking the interstate-commerce commission to adjust freight rates on shipments of lettuce from California to match those on lettuce from Arizona.

The Farm Bureau Federation intervened in the case of the railroad commission of California, et al, versus the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad company, et al. California growers contend that present rates are so preferential to Arkansas growers that their business is being hurt in various parts of the country. Rates from Arizona to the middle west and eastern points are lower proportionately, than those from the coast, they say.

ing letter to John Fritcher of Garden Grove: "I left Manila aboard the submarine tender Canopus for Wosung, a village at the intersection of the Whangpoo and the Yangtze rivers. We arrived at Fairway Buoy at 2 a. m., and found the Bulmer waiting to escort us up the river to our anchorage. As soon as day broke we upped anchor and proceeded up the river, leading a column of Japanese troops.

Works as Operator
"We passed Wosung about an hour later, or rather, we passed what was left of Wosung, the whole place being a shambles, blasted to bits by the heavy fighting which had gone on there. We anchored three miles above Wosung, and I made preparations to return to my ship as soon as the sent a boat for me. I was soon back on the 'Flyin' Deuces' ready for duty. I am a regular watchstander in the radio shack, and am getting plenty of practical experience as an operator.

"Two nights after my arrival we had an air raid, my first, and got a big thrill watching the flare of exploding bombs and the snappy flash of anti-aircraft fire. The raids all take place at night, and we have had 10 of them in two weeks.

Deluge of Shells
Japanese battle craft lie all along the river and pour a continuous rain of shells inland on the Chinese. The Chinese do not seem to care, as they are out of range, and are busy slaughtering the Japanese troops. The Japanese have blockaded the entire China coast from Chingwantao to Hongkong. There seem to be just as many Chinese as ever, and the scenery is much the same as it was last year, with the exception of the presence of many more men-of-war than usual."

Wohosky, a graduate of Garden Grove Union High school, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wohosky of Garden Grove.

ROOM MOTHERS ATTEND FETE

Room mothers of the Spurgeon Parent-Teachers' association were guests at a get-acquainted meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. L. D. Spencer, president of the organization.

A covered dish luncheon was served at noon and the best methods of getting the parents better acquainted were discussed.

Mrs. Monroe Walcher, room mother chairman was co-hostess with Mrs. Spencer at the affair. Those in attendance, in addition to the hostesses were: Mesdames Paul Witmer, L. B. Kientz, H. J. Heaney, James A. Marigold, Jasper Farney, Roch Bradshaw, A. F. Johnson, E. Toles, E. R. Childs, O. Carrillo and E. D. Klever. Special guests were Mrs. Harley Neill, magazine chairman for the organization and her co-workers, Mrs. Frank von Hecht and Mrs. Jack Hagan.

Mormon Leader To Speak Tomorrow

L. J. Muir, head of the Los Angeles Stake of the Mormon church, will be the speaker at 7:45 p. m. tomorrow at the Citizens' Forum, at the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets.

Muir, who is regional director for the Mormon Security Plan, will discuss this program of his church. A question period will follow his talk.

ing one of the greatest contributions to highway safety in a decade, according to Brown.

GOODYEAR STAGES BLOWOUT FEATS

Residents of Orange county today witnessed one of the most startling demonstrations of highway safety it has ever been their privilege to see, when tires were purposely blown out on cars traveling at high speed. Instead of a bad accident, nothing happened.

The demonstrations, arranged by E. T. Brown, local manager for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., conclusively proved that blowout accidents at high speed need not result in accident, but that when the car is equipped with Goodyear Life Guard Tubes, the driver can bring the car to a safe stop, without even a swerve, Brown pointed out.

To cause the blowouts, the car was run over a plate studded with huge railway spikes. Dynamite caps, controlled from inside the car (without the driver knowing when the blowouts were coming) ripped casings wide open, caused blowouts that would in all probability have resulted in serious accident with ordinary tubes.

The tube has been hailed by heads of police and fire departments and safety officials as be-

...in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 22.—Mutterings: The only thing that could shock some of Hollywood's sweetest young things is an earthquake. Growl: I wish the louts who block the theatre entrance at every preview all had corns—and I could step on every one. Patriotic prejudice aside, it is amazing how few of our imported glamour gitties could place in a second rate American beauty contest. Frantic urge: to play a hot-cha record on that phonograph Joan Crawford keeps on her sets—just before she goes into a big dramatic scene. Strikes me Hollywood might be a happier town if some of its actors confined their acting to the screen.

Wonder why most English actors always look doleful. Nervous itch: To offer Beverly Roberts a cold tablet every time I hear that husky whisper of hers. Ode to mayhem: To ask Grace Moore if she ever sang professionally before coming to pictures. Hollywood loves to know how to famous people—but Adolf Hitler would have a tough time getting work in the average studio. Getting personal: Jack Oakie would be funnier if he stopped laughing so loudly at his own wit.

Height of something or other—principally irony: Darryl Zanuck's decision to make a "clothes horse" of the erstwhile Gypsy Rose Lee, strip-tease queen. Imaginable exciting evening: Watching Joan Crawford—who has always professed to yearn for babies—taking care of an infant with the colic. Wondering muse: Having married—and parted from—first a wrestler and then a boxer, what branch of athletics will intrigue Judith Allen next? Tip to Sophie Tucker: Really, Sophie, those shorts... well... now... really!

About two years ago a young chap named Grayson Rogers landed a job as stand-in for Bert Wheeler in "Silly Billies." In a scene, he doubled for Bert, and fired an ancient musket. The gun exploded and mutilated his hand so badly that it had to be amputated. The average person would have folded up after such an injury and spent the rest of his life suing the studio for damages—collecting, too. If I know anything about justice, but today I met Rogers on a studio set. He is an assistant director now and he has climbed to that position from a lowly start in the property department. Instead of filing suit on his discharge from the hospital, he started studying dramatic construction. He understands that he is slated for a director's berth in the near future—and I, for one, am going to cheer.

If I owned a minstrel show, I would try to hire Irene Dunne as end man. How that girl can tell a negro dialect story!

I am no Ritz Brothers fan, but I can't help chuckling at their latest insanity. The other day, Darryl Zanuck, the big boss, was swimming in the studio gymnasium pool. In barged the Ritz zanies, dressed within an inch of their lives. Suddenly an argument started. It grew faster and louder and then, while Zanuck roared, the rate pitfalls started pushing one another into the water. But Zanuck's sense of humor was a bit strained when he learned that the three dress suits had been "borrowed" from the Twentieth Century wardrobe department.

Set-visited with Rosalind Russell, who is building a new house, and heard an amusing anecdote. Seems that yesterday, after leaving the studio she rushed out to the new house to give the carpenters special instructions about the cocktail party which is to be installed in the play room. For ten minutes, she detailed her desires to a seventy-year-old craftsman. "I see what you want," he said, "but what's it for?" "Why," said Rosalind, "it's going to be a bar." The ancient one bridled. "I'll have nothing to do with it," he announced. "And if you were the right kind of a young woman, you wouldn't either." And then he gave the amazed Rosalind a fifteen minute lecture on temperance!

The young girl who lives next door dropped in yesterday evening

Stringent new regulations of the Bureau of Air Commerce concerning civilian flying, which went into effect November 1, will affect 18 Santa Ana fliers, according to records of the bureau made public today. The new regulations substitute certificates of competency for the flying licenses now issued by the bureau.

The new certificates are issued in ratings of student, solo flier, private pilot, limited commercial pilot and commercial pilot.

New Air Rating
According to Dale Deckert, well known Santa Ana pilot and businessman, the new regulations require an "air chauffeur" piloting a ship for private owners, must carry a "scheduled air transport rating," the same as a transport pilot. This rating requires the passing of tests in "blind" flying. Private pilots, if they carry passengers on their new licenses, must pass an examination in meteorology and navigation. Pilots formerly classed as solo fliers are now listed as solo pilots and cannot land at any airport on the Federal Airway system.

For the benefit of local pilots who must pass the new examinations the Eddie Martin School of flying will start a ground school in meteorology and navigation. The school will be free and get under way January 1, to continue for three months. R. H. Drake will be the instructor.

S. A. Fliers Listed

Santa Ana residents affected by the new regulations, who are the only persons in the area now holding pilots' certificates, according to records of the air commerce bureau, are: Sacha Hill Martin, P. O. Box 986, transport; Joseph C. Hager, Box 986, transport; Edward J. Martin, P. O. Box 986, transport; Floyd K. Wright, 106 East Chestnut street, transport; Norman Heffner, 2418 Fairmont avenue, limited commercial; Dale G. Deckert, 320 North Broadway, private.

Robert A. Greier, 324 East Pine Street, private; Grant L. Kyle, Box 112, private; Calvin C. Lambert, R. F. D. 1, private; Robert D. Lufbery, 329 West Tenth street, private; Oliver V. Phillips, 110 Sycamore street, private; Jack E. Schilling, 915 Orange street, private; Roy J. Wellman, 731 Cypress street, private; Hollis J. Wilcox, 220 South Birch street, private; Wendell C. Lukens, 1408 West Third street, amateur; Hilfred H. Stephens, 926 South Garvey street, amateur; Floyd T. Waterman, 514 Flower street, amateur.

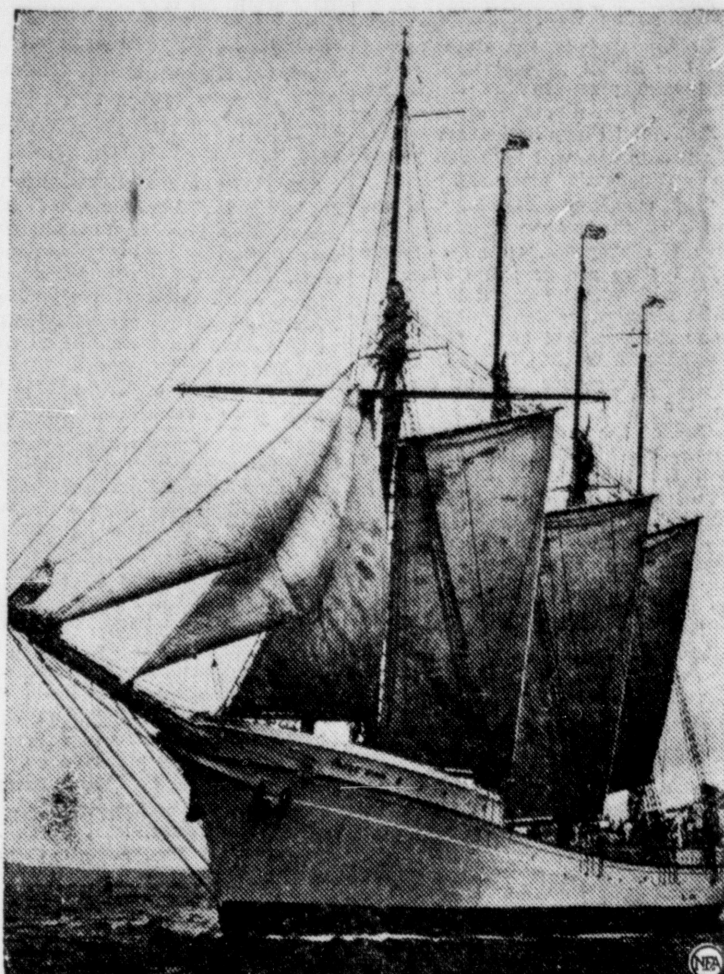

Issuance of the new certificates is not automatic. Each pilot must meet the qualifications of each rating in order to get his certificate.

Birthday Party Held In Tustin

TUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Miss Mary Jane Dailey celebrated her 16th birthday with a luncheon at her home recently. Included in the menu was a birthday cake and ice cream. The girls attended a Santa Ana theater following the luncheon.

Those sharing the merry party with Mary Jane were Barbara Gilbert, Charlotte Prothero, Virginia Pafford, Elizabeth Campbell, Anna Marie Groty, Lenora Marchant, Rebecca Archer, Beth Kellams, Betty Sutherland, Beth Francis and Emily Bouchard.

Sailing Into Ocean Air Service

Out of the romantic past of the sea into the progressive present sails this stout four-masted schooner Trade Wind, refitted as supply ship for the fleet Clipper ships of the Pacific commercial airlines. Rescued from oblivion of a harbor anchorage by Pan American Airways, the old sailing ship will be put into service as tender for Clipper bases on the Honolulu-Manila route and projected New Zealand line.

ANNUAL CHURCH SERVICE READY SIX STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL

In the churches of Santa Ana special attention was called yesterday to the annual Thanksgiving Day service to be held at 10 a. m. Thursday in the United Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Ministerial Union. This annual observance is an established part of the Thanksgiving Day celebration in Santa Ana, and all people are urged to attend and join in the hour of worship.

The meeting will be under the direction of the Rev. A. E. Kelly, pastor of the United Presbyterian church and chairman of the committee in charge. The sermon will be by the Rev. Harold I. Rasmus, of the First M. E. church, whose theme is to be "A Misled Heritage."

Special musical features will be provided by the choir under the direction of T. Harry Warner. Their anthem is "Thanks Be to God," by Salter. The various ministers of the city will participate in the service and they join in extending the invitation not only to their members, but to all who are willing to engage in this appropriate manner of expressing the spirit of the national day of Thanksgiving.

SAN FRANCISCO, (UP)—A $2-

000,000 cemetery has been offered to the city of San Francisco as a gift, according to W. B. Ries, president of the Laurel Hill cemetery association. Ries said that trustees had voted in favor of the move, providing that the city turned the 54-acre property into a memorial park to commemorate those buried there.

BOYS AND GIRLS OF CITY WATCH SANTA'S STORE

BY DELPHA WOLLERT

What toys will Santa Claus pull out of his bag this year for anxious, hopeful boys and girls who await his coming on Christmas eve?

Merchants of Santa Ana, even now, are preparing their lines of toys to be placed on display for the benefit of wide-eyed kiddies and their fond parents. Bewildering arrays of things dear to children's hearts already are making appearances in numerous Santa Ana shops and stores.

Cowboy Equipment
In keeping with scientific progress, toys include streamlined mechanical and electric trains with signals, tracks, tunnels, race cars, speedways, trucks, G-Men repeating guns and numerous others.

Little apparent trend toward armament is noted. Regiments of rubber soldiers and Doughboy tanks are the only evidence along this line. "Cowboy equipment" again comes to the front with complete outfits in that line. Almost as popular as cowboy equipment are table tennis, badminton and loop tennis sets.

Among the old and new card games are Rummy, Author, Touring, Old Maid, Pinch, G-Man, Pitt and Book. Anagrams and a chalk-and-slate game seem to have favor with the younger children. Dial typewriters which operate and a "67-in-one" game called "Richochet," in which one game is started and "bounces off to another," are special features at one downtown store. At another store, rubber boy dolls named "Simp" and "Popo," with movable heads, are featured.

For Modern Miss
For the modern Miss, there are washing machines, stoves, ironing boards, aluminum and China dishes, cupboards, rocking chairs (to be used for that tired feeling due to ironing all day), tables, other furniture, regular size, and miniature size for dolls. Dolls from the smallest size to almost life size are offered; so are doll bugles.

Paint sets, tinkler toys, toy pianos, balls of all colors and sizes, movable animal toys and books galore are offered as usual. Larger gifts consist of small radios, car radios, bicycles, tricycles, coaster wagons and play-automobiles. Shirley Temple and Dionne quintuplet motifs have disappeared this year and as yet, nothing has replaced them. The children's favorite, Mr. Mickey Mouse, still hangs around during every Christmas season.

American boys prefer red as their favorite color for marbles,

Is Your Home Safe?

Statistics show that home accidents claimed more lives in 1936 than motor vehicles. The Red Cross Accident Prevention campaign is aimed at reducing home hazards. These unprotected or frayed light cords may trip the child or may be short-circuited and give her a shock. Red Cross urges all such hazards be checked for home safety. Have you joined yet?

HARRISON URGES WORKERS TO COMPLETE WORK BY THURSDAY

Workers in the annual Red Cross Roll Call of members for Southern Orange county today were being urged by J. Wayne Harrison, chairman in charge of the campaign, to complete their solicitations by Thursday night.

"Indications are," Harrison said, "that the Japanese Red Cross today, 'that the Southern section of the county will exceed its quota of 3785 members by several hundred. Santa Ana undoubtedly will exceed its community quota."

Tells of Services
During the current campaign emphasis has been placed on Red Cross services in the United States. Harrison now calls special attention to the Insular and Foreign program of the American Red Cross.

Early in September a call was issued from Washington for chapters to accept contributions to be transmitted through the International Red Cross, Geneva, Switzerland, to assist the Chinese Red Cross in its relief program. At

$2,500 Monthly Grant

National Red Cross reports show that from the beginning of the conflict in Spain until August 15, this year, it had contributed $73,000 for relief in Spain.

Of this total, $5,000 was sent to the French Red Cross to aid Basque refugee children; $36,000 was used in repatriating more than 3,000 American citizens and $32,000 was expended through the International Red Cross committee in connection with its impartial work. A monthly grant of $2500 is being sent to the International committee to help finance its work in Spain.

TRAVEL BOOKS PROVE POPULAR IN SANTA ANA

Many of the new travel books now in demand went into circulation Saturday at the Santa Ana public library. The inspection shelf where books are held for a week for examination by the public, might almost be called the travelers' bookshelf, so many countries are touched upon.

Orient Books Popular

Books on China and Japan are particularly popular and new ones are appearing with astonishing frequency, publishers competing to get their best manuscripts into print as quickly as possible. Among those recommended are:

China: A Japan, Boerschmann; Picturesque China; Snow—Living China; Crow—Four Hundred Million Customers; Kang—East Goes West; Abend and Billingham—Can China Survive?; Tiltman—The Far East Comes Near; Sansom—Living in Tokyo.

Russia, Lyons—Assignment in Utopia; Mexico, Garner—Mexico; Notes on the Margin; South America, Freeman—Discovering South America; Far North, Smolka—Forty Thousand Against the Arctic; Balkans, Africa, India, Powell—Free Lance.

ican Red Cross also sent modest sums to the Colombia Red Cross for the assistance of sufferers in a series of earthquakes. It sent a contribution to the Salvadorean Red Cross to assist in work following an earthquake which practically destroyed the city of San Vincent. It also made a contribution to the Canadian Red Cross for relief needs following the torrential spring rains in the Thames River district in Ontario.

Island chapters in the Philippines, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Guam, Samoa and the Virgin Islands all carried on the Red Cross program for the welfare of their people.

Santa Anans
Prominent In Bridal Party

Glendale's Wee Kirk O' the Heather wore its loveliest autumnal aspect for the wedding Saturday night of Miss Josephine Dana, daughter of Mrs. Charles Dana, Alhambra and Perry, Iowa, and Eric L. Pridonoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Pridonoff, Los Angeles. The bride is well known in this city where she is a frequent guest in the home of her brother-in-law and sister, the Charles D. Swannans. Mrs. Swannan had prominence in the bridal ceremony as matron of honor, and her small daughter, Cara Lee, was flower girl.

Giving variety to the organ recital before and during the ceremony was the violin solo, "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," played by George Pridonoff, brother of the bridegroom, who also took the part of best man.

In Bridal Satin
Miss Dana chose ivory satin for her bridal gown, fashioned on simple lines, with its full skirt sweeping in a rounded train. The tulle folds of her veil were arranged with a stole effect of priceless rosepoint lace. She carried an ivory-bound prayer book to which was tied with ivory satin ribbons a fan of lilies of the valley centered with an orchid, and with it, a lace handkerchief which, given to her mother by the latter's mother, has been carried by five brides of the family during the last two generations. Approaching the altar on the arm of her brother, Eugene W. Dana, the bride was given in marriage by her mother.

The two ushers, Messrs. Peter Teligan and Constantine Serheff, led the processions to the altar where Mr. Pridonoff and his best man awaited with the Rev. Ira L. Ketcham, pastor of the Alhambra church, attended by the bride and her mother.

Rose tones were dominant in the gowns of the bridal attendants. Miss Avis Carlson wearing dusty coral silk net over taffeta, and Miss Erica Lowe in slightly deeper coral. The gowns were gracefully bouffant, and were matched by small circular veils of the net, caught with pansies to match the flower muffs each carried. Mrs. Swannan as matron of honor chose silk crepe in the coral tones, accented by a pearly girde of deeper shade. Her flowers were tallsmen roses arranged in a sheaf with pansies.

Little Miss Cara Lee Swannan, scattering pansies in the pathway of the bride, wore a quaint, Kate Greenway frock in dusty coral net over taffeta, with pansies caught in the ribbons tying her hair. She wore also the bride's gift of a chain and cross. Gifts to the bridesmaids were rhinestone clips, and to the matron of honor, a cloisonne compact.

Reception Plans
After the customary wishing well ceremony following the rites there was an informal reception in the court, with many Santa Ana guests present. Relatives and a few close friends were received later at a buffet supper in the A. A. Pridonoff home. Mrs. Pridonoff wore Wallis blue lace with a corsage of deep red roses. Mrs. Dana's hand-some rose lace gown was complemented with gardenias.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Pridonoff left for a northern California honeymoon, the bride traveling in black outfit of hooded green, with black accessories. They will return to the Southland to make their home as Mr. Pridonoff is mechanical designer with the Superior Oil company of Los Angeles. He had his technical education at U. C. L. A. His bride's high school work was in her native Iowa, where she was prominent in drama clubs, as a Camp Fire guard, and similar activities. She has continued her studies at Otis Art Institute in Los Angeles where she is one of the officers of the student body board.

The W. A. Taylors Are Hosts at Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Taylor and their 14 dinner guests assembled at Danagers late last week in one of the private dining rooms, where decorations at one long table were suggestive of the approach of Thanksgiving.

The same theme held prominence in the Taylor home, 2410 Bonnie Brae where the group went for the remainder of the evening. An arrangement of fruits, nuts and greenery added to the charm of the dining room table.

Each guest replied to the question "Why I came to Santa Ana," and many were the interesting facts brought out. With some of the group describing recent travels, the hours sped all too quickly.

Patrons Named
For Jr. Ebell
Harvest Ball

Plans progressed today for Junior Ebell society's annual harvest ball Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock in the clubhouse peacock room, with announcement made of selection of patrons and patronesses for the event.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. White, Major and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thomson have been asked to serve as patrons and patronesses, it was announced today by Mrs. Crawford Nalle, chairman of that committee.

Music for the ball will be provided by Lee Mann's orchestra. Mrs. Alvin Stauffer is chairman of the music committee. Decorative details are being worked out by Mrs. Carleton Smith and her committee. Mesdames Claude Brakelill, Robert L. Smith, Joseph Knox, Walter Bacon and the Misses Rowena Newcomb and Alberta Greene.

Miss Sada Mae Macaulay, ticket chairman, distributed the harvest-time tickets several weeks ago, so that she and her co-workers are assured the dance will be a success so far as attendance is concerned. On the committee with Miss Macaulay are Mesdames James Marigold, William Jerome, Jr., Don Harwood, Lyle Kelly, Russell Sullivan and the Misses Betty Smith, Betty Jane Moore, Eleanor Metzgar and Ruth Bradley.

All arrangements for the gala affair have been supervised by Mrs. Hubert Gohres, general chairman. On the punch committee is Mrs. John Scripps.

Miss Head Entertains
Auld Lang Syne Club
At Fall Session

With their autumn meeting so close to the great Thanksgiving holiday, members of the Auld Lang Syne club gave full expression to the season's mood Thursday when they met with Miss Percie Head, 520 East Sixth street, for covered dish luncheon and an enjoyable session of needlework and chat.

Miss Head's sister, Mrs. M. H. Cox, Mrs. Elizabeth Mott of Garden Grove and W. D. Finn were guests for the day. Mr. Finn joining the group for the luncheon hour. The hostess used chrysanthemums in all their warm autumn shades for brightening her home, with bowls of cottonseed sprays eloquent of the holidays which will intervene before the group meets again.

For Auld Lang Syne members came together only every two months, and the next meeting will be in late January when the A. Johnson home in Laguna Beach will be the rendezvous for the group.

Election of officers was of first importance after luncheon, and Miss Head was named to the presidency to succeed Mrs. Estelle Harper, while Mrs. Emma King Wassum will combine the duties of secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Wassum told the members of her recent trip into Mexico, displaying many pictures of scenes visited. This was also the first meeting since Mrs. Estelle Harper's return from an extended eastern trip of which she told interesting details.

In addition to the special guests, members present were the hostess, Miss Head, Mesdames Mabel Lowell, Grace Finn and Emma King Wassum, Santa Ana; Edith H. Lane and Fannie Newsum, Long Beach; Ethel Kelly, Irvine; Jennie Johnson, Laguna Beach; Agnes E. Oldfield, Mira A. Newsom, Estelle Harper and Agnes Stanley, Garden Grove.

Miss Smedley Honored
At Sunday Tea in Altadena

Two former Scripps college classmates of Miss Betty Smedley of this city, fiancée of Lincoln Spaulding, joined in giving tea in her honor Sunday afternoon in the Altadena home of Mrs. Harold Hager, Mrs. Hager and Mrs. Fred Alexander, both of whom will be members of the bridal party were co-hostesses.

Guests from Santa Ana included Miss Smedley and her mother, Mrs. Ralph Smedley; the Misses Mary Tuthill, Mary Nau and Marion Brownbridge. Miss Tuthill will be maid of honor, and the Misses Nau and Brownbridge, to be bridesmaids at the Spaulding-Smedley wedding. Mrs. Marlowe Coleman of Palo Alto and yesterday's hostesses will complete the charming bevy of bride's attendants.

Guests called at the Hager home yesterday afternoon between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. The group presented Miss Smedley with gifts in Spode, in the pattern she has selected.

Delphiniums and godelias centered the tea table, which was lighted with ivory tapers. Pouring tea were Mrs. B. E. Fultz of Toll hall, Scripps college and Mrs. Alexander's mother, Mrs. Grace Woodruff of Hollywood.

Ruth Bryan Owen Will Address
Ebell Society, Guests

Every Ebell study group meeting during these late November days, is electrified by the anticipation of hearing once more as an Ebell guest speaker, the Honorable Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of the "Great Commoner," and "First Woman," in so many fields, that she might almost vie with the wife of the President for the title.

For Ruth Bryan Owen (or to give her the title of her private life, Mrs. Boerge Rohde) is to address Ebell society and many guests just a week from tonight, in the clubhouse auditorium on "The Scandinavian Co-operative Movement."

The "First" that this prominent American woman has to her credit, include her representation of the Old South in congress, for she was the first woman ever to have held this honor. They include also her post as America's first woman diplomat, when she went to Copenhagen as American minister to Denmark. Her success in that field is now a matter of history, and it is recognized that from the day of her arrival in Denmark, she caught—and held—the interest, trust and affection of the Danish people.

This spirit was summed up in one American magazine, by the statement that "Ruth Bryan Owen has won Denmark to the United States." Always, with her fine appreciation of statesmanship, she saw that the work of the American legation went on as smoothly as though the minister were a man. This work entails a vast amount of correspondence, innumerable interviews, and the handling and solving of many knotty problems.

Her three years in the legation gave her an insight into the Danish people and their affairs, that makes it possible for her to speak with authority on such subjects as she has chosen for her Santa Ana address. She has inherited her famous father's gifts as a public speaker, as none knows better than Ebell society, which had the honor of entertaining her a few years ago, and hearing her eloquence.

Her engagement here could not be arranged as one of the customary dates of the society, but the Monday that it was possible for her to come, was a date that is singularly open, since it is the fifth Monday of the month, with not even the customary Eastern Star chapter meetings which would ordinarily take many Ebell members.

Dr. John Brown Mason
Gives Address at College Alumni Event

Dr. John Brown Mason, popular forum leader who is a member of Santa Ana Junior college faculty spoke on "The Challenge of Democracy" Saturday evening when Southern California alumni members and friends of Colorado State College of Education (formerly Colorado Teachers college) met in Los Angeles Women's University club.

Election of officers was a feature of the evening, with Miss B. Pearl Nicholson of Santa Ana re-elected secretary-treasurer of the group. N. O. Horning of Huntington Park is president; Dr. Madeline Veverka of Los Angeles city schools, vice president.

Present from this vicinity were Dr. and Mrs. Mason, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. W. A. Patterson, Miss Ethel D. Mack, Mrs. Frances Hunt Beeson and daughter, Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Johnston of Fullerton, Mrs. Jean Nicholson Gross. They were in a group with 40 other alumni members and guests.

Former faculty members and others intimately connected with the college administration were introduced. They included Mrs. D. D. Hugh of Hollywood, Mrs. James Hays of Pasadena, Cree T. Work of Santa Monica and Mrs. Eunice Moseley Sternberg of Los Angeles.

Plans were made for a special meeting in San Diego in early spring. It was announced that Dr. W. D. Armentrout, vice president of Colorado State College of Education, will appear as guest speaker on the Los Angeles City Teachers Institute program in December.

GAY SUPPER PARTY

A merry group of young people who usually meet Sunday night to enjoy special radio programs, found cordial welcome last night in the home of the Paul W. Hales, 311 Wright street, where Miss Dorothy Gowdy joined Mrs. Hales in presenting a buffet supper.

Flowers and candlelight gave special charm to the small supper tables grouped in friendly intimacy, with a cheerful sunny suggestion by the yellow chrysanthemums.

In the party with Mr. and Mrs. Hales and Miss Gowdy were the Ray Cartwrights, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knox the Misses Lucille Cook, Erlene Farmer, Ruth Baker, Gwen Griffith, Messrs. Major Anderson Jr., Walter Hendrie, Otto Grigg, Russell Abbey, Kenneth Vandruft and Herbert Hill.

L. A. Church
Is Scene Of Bridal Rites

At 11 o'clock rites yesterday morning in St. Anthony's Catholic church, Los Angeles, the rector, the Rev. Father S. Yureko, read the service uniting in marriage, Miss Anna Marie Page, of this city, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter K. Page, Garden Grove, and Peter Mikov, of Los Angeles, son of Mrs. Dora Mikov, of Zagreb, Yugoslavia.

Blue delphiniums were mingled with white chrysanthemums at the altar, and big baskets of the flow-ers defined the aisle banded with white ribbons, down which the bride party passed. Miss Nina Yeseita played the nuptial music and Mary Barkigia Roth was soloist.

The charming bride wore heavy white satin, with close fitting bodice and full skirt on train. Her veil fell to the edge of her skirt, and was caught by her dark hair with a pearl halo. She carried her mother's prayer book with a cluster of gardenias, bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her father gave her in marriage.

Miss Nina Page was her sister's honor maid, and was gowned in aqua blue silk moire with a gold-headed Juliet cap matching her gold sandals. Her flowers were yellow rosebuds. Miss Mary Ave Page in apricot moire similar in style to her sister's bridesmaid gown, even to the sandals and the Juliet cap, was junior bridesmaid and flower girl, and carried a colonial cluster of bachelor buttons and gypsophelia.

Mr. Mikov's attendants were his best man, Joseph Rasich, and his ushers, Anthony Sepich, Long Beach, and Michael Page, Los Angeles.

Following the church rites, Mr. Sepich complimented the bride party at a wedding breakfast at his home, 801 South Downey road, Los Angeles, and last night, Mr. and Mrs. Page were dinner hosts to the wedding party and a large guest list. The bride's uncle, Steven Page, was toastmaster. Dancing followed until 10 o'clock when the Wedding March was signal for a little ceremony attending the cutting of the bride's cake, an elaborate confection in seven tiers, which was served with punch.

Mr. Mikov, who attended trade school in his native Zagreb, Yugoslavia, finished school in Pennsylvania and is now with American Tire Machinery company, Los Angeles. His bride attended St. Columkill's Private school, Los Angeles; Garden Grove High school and Santa Ana Junior college, and has been in the office of the Famous Department store here. The young couple will make their home in Los Angeles, deferring a honeymoon trip until later.

Wedding Anniversary
Is Given Happy
Observance

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Groomer, 1009 West Sixth street, will remember their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary with special pleasure, for it occasioned a happy surprise late the past week, planned by their daughter, Miss Shirley Groomer, Mrs. A. L. Berkland and Mrs. W. E. Peterson.

In carrying out the friendly conspiracy, Miss Groomer had planned to take her parents out to dinner, and during their absence, the guests gathered in the home to surprise them upon their return. This surprise even included a bride and bridegroom, the roles played in correct attire, by Mrs. Berkland and Mrs. Peterson, who marched forth to the air of the Wedding March.

Five hundred was introduced as the evening's entertainment, and favors were in wedding ring and bell design. Computes of candies were placed on each table. Prizes in the game went to Mrs. Peterson and Elmer Shrader.

The three hostesses had garlanded the home with flowers in the rich rust, amber and copper shades of the autumn, and matched these with the effective covers for the tables at the late supper hour. Favors were small bride and bridegroom figures fashioned from gumdrops, each little bride complete with veil and be-ribboned bouquet, and the bridegroom in black cellophane formal attire including tiny boutonnières. Mrs. Marie Guttle and Miss Shirley Groomer had fashioned the clever figures.

Following the inviting supper course, a complete bridge set of dishes was presented Mr. and Mrs. Groomer by the guests who included Messrs. and Mesdames A. L. Berkland W. E. Peterson, George Howlett, Miss Shirley Groomer and Elmer Shrader.

LUNCHEON FOURLSOME

Mrs. Lynn Ostrander, Tustin avenue, entertained a trio of friends at luncheon today at Danagers. In the party with the hostess were Mrs. Howard L. Boyer, Mrs. Carl Young and Mrs. Louis Brasch.

Jr. Ebell Thespians
Are Busy With
Gala Holiday Program

In less than two weeks' time Thespians of Junior Ebell society's First Book Review section will bring some of childhood's favorite characters to the stage in a gala Christmas program planned for the entertainment of children and grownups as well.

December 4 is the date named for this initial presentation, which will take place in the clubhouse. Already, members are selling tickets, and every indication is that the production will be given before an enthusiastic audience.

"A Christmas Dream" is the name of the play which will feature the program, to be complete with festive prologue and other details which make for a successful entertainment which children and their mothers will love. Mrs. L. L. Beeman, director, is calling the actresses together tonight for one of the first rehearsals.

One of the most recent additions to the cast is Mrs. Ray Tarr, who will fill the role of the old lady who lives in the shoe. This is just one of the many favorite story-book characters who will make the stage on the afternoon of December 4. "Alice in Wonderland" will be there, with Mrs. Claude Brakelill filling that role. "Wendy" (Mrs. Robert Guild) will be present as will "The Little Girl" (Mrs. Crawford Nalle).

Mrs. Burt Zaiser will be "Cinderella"; Mrs. John Scripps "Hushabye Lady"; Mrs. Charles McDonald Jr. and Mrs. Glenn Mathis "Hansel and Gretel"; Mrs. Harold Dale, "Scarecrow of Oz"; Mrs. Raymond Terry, "Black Sambo"; Mrs. Oliver Lindemeyer, "Peter Pan"; Mrs. Thoburn White, "Robinson Crusoe".

Thanksgiving Ceremony
Changed to Earlier
November Date

When Thanksgiving dawned Thursday morning, it will not bring the wedding day of Miss Mary Margie Chapman and Edward Holloway, but instead will see Mr. and Mrs. Holloway already established in their home in Torrance, bride and bridegroom of more than a week.

For it was on Sunday, November 14 that the young people were married, the bride feeling that it was her place to advance the wedding date in order to be of assistance to Mr. Holloway in the injuries he recently received. He had the misfortune to incur on Armistice Day, a compound fracture of his arm, which was broken in five places. So the wedding plans were hastened and all honeymoon plans deferred until his recovery.

Almost 30 guests were present for the wedding, which was conducted by the Rev. Earl C. Bloss in the patio of Santa Ana wedding chapel. The bride was simply attired in a tulle of oxford gray and black accessories. She wore a corsage cluster of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Miller of Torrance were bridal attendants. Mrs. Miller also wearing gardenias with her tailored suit. After the wedding, the Millers were hosts to the entire guest group, at a turkey dinner held in their Torrance home. All flowers and decorations were on a theme suggesting the Thanksgiving date set originally for the wedding.

Mr. Holloway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Holloway, 724 Minter street. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey E. Chapman, 612 Olive street. Both attended Santa Ana High school, and Mr. Holloway is now with the M. and N. Transfer company of Torrance.

Several Dances Mark
November Calendar

Late November dances on the calendar for Lee Mann and his orchestra are many, with Saturday night's Vivian dance at Santa Ana Country club climaxing events for last week. The Sunny Californians also provided music for that night's Junior college A.W.S. dance in Huntington Beach Memorial hall.

The orchestra will play for the annual Thanksgiving eve dance of Alpha Alpha chapter, Phi Sigma fraternity Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock at Santa Ana Country club. The musicians will be at the Country club Friday night for a monthly dance which members of the club are anticipating.

Highlighting events of Thanksgiving week will be Santa Ana Junior Ebell society's harvest ball in Ebell clubhouse, with Lee Mann's orchestra playing.

Close Friends
Are Guests At Bridal Shower

It seemed especially appropriate that one of the final pre-nuptial courtesies for Miss Norma Wilson should serve as a reunion of former Junior college friends, with Miss Agnes McKinstry giving the affair Saturday afternoon in her home, 705 Hickory street. The marriage of Miss Wilson and Howard Fitzgerald will take place Wednesday.

Since so many of the guests had not been together for some time, the greater part of the afternoon was given over to reminiscing. However, there were appropriate games, with Miss Grace Wurster winning one of the prizes. Asked to write verses in which bridegroom and bride figured, guests contributed a variety of original poems which were acclaimed for their merit.

Miscellaneous shower gifts for Miss Wilson were arranged on the dining room table, over which was suspended a large wedding ring encircling tiny bridegroom and bride figures. Ribbon streamers led from the ornament to the corners of the room.

Pink and white was the color motif observed in all decorative details, including modernistic centerpieces on small tables at which refreshments were served. Miniature brides were place cards.

Assisting Miss McKinstry throughout the afternoon were her mother and sister, Mrs. E. C. McKinstry with Mrs. Arthur Carpenter of Los Angeles. Others present were the honoree, Miss Wilson, and her mother, Mrs. B. O. Wilson; Mesdames Norbert Megowan, Maurice Dunn, William Juvonen, Los Angeles; Dean Hyatt, Redondo; Bruce Harding, Russell Porter, Whittier; Lee Hasenjaeger, Anaheim; Carleton Smith and Miss Grace Wurster, Santa Ana; Mrs. Lawrence Bartell, Laguna Beach.

Department Members
Have Dinner, Program

Thirty-eight members and staff workers of First Baptist Senior high department assembled Saturday evening at Swansons for dinner and a program climaxed by a talk on Thanksgiving by Roland P. Upton of Buena Park.

Mrs. John J. Vernon and Mrs. Edward U. Farmer had arranged the effective decorations. Blue and white tapers lighted the tables, which were lovely with orange chrysanthemums and sunny marigolds in white pottery bowls.

Stanley Pearson, master of ceremonies, led group singing. Others at the speaker's table were Mrs. Harry Harlow, department head, and Mr. Harlow; Fred Sanford, Sunday school superintendent and Mrs. Sanford; the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Evan Owings; Miss Elizabeth Robinson, director of young people; Mr. and Mrs. Upton, and department teachers including Mrs. Farmer, Mrs. Vernon, Mrs. J. B. Price and Harry Pink.

Sol Gonzales played violin solos. He presented a young Spanish girl, who contributed native songs.

Since so many of the guests had not been together for some time, the greater part of the afternoon was given over to reminiscing. However, there were appropriate games, with Miss Grace Wurster winning one of the prizes. The Mixing Bowl
By ANN MEREDITH

If you have a fine old Oriental rug that you hate to send out, you might find this method of cleaning at home entirely satisfactory. First, thoroughly vacuum the rug or brush it by hand, then apply the following recipe for soap jelly, working it into a rich creamy lather. Let this lather dry on the rug, then, take a stiff brush and brush it out and off the rug. Result: a perfectly clean rug with colors as they used to be.

Soap Jelly—For Cleaning Rugs and Wood Work

Shave fine 2 large bars of Ivory soap
Melt soap in 4 quarts hot water, boil up, take vessel off fire and stir in 4 tablespoons coal oil and
2 tablespoons household ammonia
As the liquid cools, stir it occasionally to distribute the oil through the jellying mixture. In applying the soap, first wet the surface of fabric to be cleaned with clean warm water, then take the undiluted soap jelly and rub it sparingly into the fabric, working it into a creamy lather. Be sure and get the soap well down into the fibres. When this dries and is vigorously brushed out, the dirt comes up and out with the dry lather. This soap jelly is excellent for cleaning painted wood work, but not so good for window washing.

In our Safe and Sane reducing diet, nothing is left to the imagination. The food allowed is fully outlined, and all necessary recipes given for salad dressings, etc. A stamped, addressed envelope should be enclosed when you write for the diet sheet.

Of course you make an occasional batch of home-made bread and have your own pet recipe, but just in case there is a beginner reading this column today, a recipe for bread will be given before we go into a huddle on dinner roll making.

Fabric and accessory tips included. PRICE OF BOOK FIFTEEN CENTS. PRICE OF PATTERN FIFTEEN CENTS. BOOK AND PATTERN TOGETHER TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

Not 4542

- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 cups water
- 2 tablespoons vegetable fat or lard
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 1-2 cups bread flour stirred into cooled liquid, then.
- Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 1-2 cup tepid water and whip it into the sponge

Additional flour added later to make a kneading dough.

It might be wise to divide the sponge after it has risen (a matter of 2 hours for the beginner, the pan covered and kept in a warm spot in the kitchen) keeping the white part for rolls and 1 loaf, whole wheat flour added to the remainder, with nuts and raisins, for a dark fruit loaf or two.

Now, the sponge having risen to bubbly perfection, stir it down and add flour enough to make a stiff dough. Turn onto the board and knead well, return to pan, cover and let rise. Cut down, knead lightly, shape in loaves, brush tops with melted butter and when risen to double bulk, bake 1 hour.

Tuesday: Sunday morning leisure calls for an extra good breakfast: serve Peach Coffee Cake, bacon omelette and coffee, Hungarian Stew.

MONTHLY PARTY

White doilies fringed with yellow, nut cups of turkey design and other appointments were in keeping with a Thanksgiving motif Friday afternoon for a monthly event which members of Sarah A. Rounds tent D.U.V. enjoyed in the home of Mrs. Blanche Quigley, 1114 South Van Ness avenue.

Persimmon pudding and coffee were served in this pretty setting. While some of the members played rook or anagrams during the afternoon, others did fancy work.

On the hostess committee with Mrs. Quigley were Mesdames Harriet Mitchell, Nattie Griswold and Martha McKee.

Trees do not grow by stretching and lengthening their limbs; fence wires stapled to growing trees remain the same distance from the ground.

Book Review Provides Program for 6th Household Section

Luncheon and a review of "Northwest Passage" given by Mrs. John Tessmann were features of a monthly meeting of Eboli Sixth Household Economics section Friday afternoon in the clubhouse. Hostesses were Mesdames H. T. Trueblood, W. A. Taylor and J. W. McCormac.

Chrysanthemums in bronze and yellow tones centered tables at which members were grouped for luncheon. Guests were Mrs. W. S. Thomson, president of Eboli society; Mrs. Tessmann, Mrs. L. Wharton and Mrs. Mary Peebles of Eagle Rock.

During a business meeting in charge of Mrs. Jessie White, plans were made for a gift exchange and other party features to be held at the next meeting, Friday, December 17 in the clubhouse. Hostesses will be Mesdames W. H. Harrison, R. E. Coulter and S. H. Finley.

Mrs. Chester Warren, program chairman introduced Mrs. Tessmann, whose review of Kenneth Roberts' book "Northwest Passage" was comprehensive.

Present were Mesdames O. H. Barr, G. E. Bruns, J. F. Burke, R. E. Coulter, S. M. Davis, S. H. Finley, A. M. Gardner, W. H. Harrison, John A. Harvey, H. B. Hill, A. J. Lasby, George Munro, W. D. Ranney, B. H. Sharpless, J. S. Smart, S. W. Stanley, T. L. Warren, Chester Warren, Jessie White, Fred Zaiser, Miss Lida Crookshank and the hostesses; with the four guests.

Turkey Dinner Held In Allison Home

Bridge club members and their husbands were guests Friday evening at turkey dinner which Mr. and Mrs. George Allison gave in their home in Tustin. Centering the white linen-spread table was a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums with smilax festooning from the blossoms to tall taper lighting the scene. Place cards and nut cups were yellow.

Card play was enjoyed informally following dinner. In the group with the hosts were Tesss, and Mesdames W. L. Copeland, C. L. Steen, William Swanson, Walter Kennedy, A. W. Rinel, Mrs. Rose Woodward and daughter, Mary Ann; Miss Ruth Allison, daughter of the home; with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Perryman and daughter, Helen, Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Richl and daughter, Shirley; Orange; and the Allison's houseguest, Miss Elma Smith of Santa Ana.

Bevy of Just-marrieds Share Hospitality Of Gustlin Home

Although wedding bells had no place whatever in decorative plans for a buffet supper at which Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin entertained late the past week in their home, 816 North Main street, there was nevertheless an aura of romance about the entire evening.

For there had been the chime of wedding bells in the not-too-distant past for everyone on the guest list, and Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin had attended the majority of the weddings, while Mr. Gustlin had taken musical prominence in some of them.

Flowers appeared doubly lovely in the soft radiance of candles used on the buffet table and on the small tables where guests were grouped for the enjoyment of the supper hour. Later these tables were pressed into service for the amusing games contest of the evening, in which funny little prizes were won and exchanged with much hilarity.

On their guest list, Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin included the Russell Rowlands, the Dolph Kelseys, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. James Stephenson, the Halstead MacCormacs, the Ray Trovornows, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Stephenson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Bauer of Saticoy, the Lohr Bauers of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Bauer.

Heirlooms on Display Form Feature of Class Party

Delta Alpha class members of First Methodist church school held their monthly social and business meeting on Thursday evening in the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormac, 112 Church street. Mrs. McCormac was teacher of this class many years ago, and Mrs. McCormac answered a vote of thanks from her guests with a beautiful poem as a tribute to the work of the class during past years.

Each guest was asked to bring an heirloom and many old and very interesting things were on display, but Mrs. McCormac caused amazement by bringing from its wrappings an old family Bible, bound in leather and brass, which is over 330 years old.

Mrs. McCormac was assisted in entertaining by Miss Irma DeBarr and the Misses Laura and Elizabeth Sherman. Miss Keadie Hay poured coffee during the serving of Thanksgiving refreshments. The home was decorated in flowers

Our Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

LOVING-KINDNESS

I would like to reach the private ear of all the loving mothers in the world and beg them to give their children a chance to do some loving on their own account. You see, children love their mothers and they long to show their love in acts of service, and the mothers do their utmost to prevent that serving.

"No no, daughter. You let me do that. You'll ruin your hands." Daughter reluctantly gives way to mother. What the living mother has overlooked is the affectionate daughter's desire to serve her, to save her, to make life just a little happier for her who is dearer to her than a hair of a sainted head. It does not enter mother's head that her daughter would gladly spoil a manicured hand, gladly weary herself if need be, in her mother's service. But the fact remains.

Children should be taught in their learning years to wait upon their mothers, to help them in every possible way. Not so much that mother be saved work—often it is harder to be served than to serve oneself—but that the child may experience the joy of service and learn the royal way to happiness that work and work alone affords. Children's first great need, after the primary needs of food and shelter have been met, is usefulness. Too often mothers deprive them of this satisfaction and its beneficent rewards by doing all the work themselves.

And there is another point here that must be earnestly regarded by all mothers and teachers who have to deal with handicapped children. Let the handicapped child do to the utmost what other children do without trying to stop them. If a boy has a spinal curvature, or a limp, or some other equally crippling affliction, stand out of his way if you love him. Don't pity him. He hates it. Don't baby him. He hates that, too. Let him go as far as he can go and cheer for him. By that means he will go much farther and be that much happier.

A boy with a weak back hates to have his mother make him take the one seat in the bus while she stands. He may try to smile, but his heart is bursting. He feels the eyes of all those people upon him, feels their pity or their criticism, and wishes for an invisible cloak and magic wings anything for delightful oblivion. He suffers more from his mother's loving-kindness than from the ache in his back.

I like to teach sightless children with the others. I like to have the handicapped child working by the side of the free-limbed, healthy one. They need the stimulus each supplies the other. The weaker one needs special and private instruction to help him carry on, but he needs far more the contact with healthy, active people of his own period. Don't make things harder for such children by accentuating their weakness. Accent, instead, their strength. They will get tired; they will ache with fatigue, but they can bear their pain better if their hearts are aglow with the joy of doing as other folk do.

I know they must be watched and tended, more's the pity. But can't we hide a little of that harsh truth from them and let them go as far as they can? At least we can refrain from showing them our pity. And we can refrain from petting and babying them until they rebel. Just remember that a shorn lamb can kick.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled, "Annoying Habits" in which he tells parents how to cope with some of the common infantile faults. Send for it addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper, and enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3c) envelope.

BOYS' WORSHIP PLANS FINISHED

Robert Winterbourne, president of the Santa Ana Raggers, sponsors of the Boys' Thanksgiving Worship service to be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in First Methodist church chapel, today announced the program to be given during the service. Winterbourne will serve as master of ceremonies.

The service will open with a piano prelude played by Herbert Thomas, Boys' Work secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and be followed by the Call to Worship, by the Mowhawk Friendly Indians.

Herbert Scott will lead in singing the hymn, "My God, I Thank Thee." Cherokee and Iroquois Friendly Indians will give the responsive reading and Robert Sullivan will play a violin solo which will be followed by the prayer hymn "For All The Blessings of the Year."

Members of the Raggers, honor society of summer campers, will give sentence prayers, and the Y.M.C.A. Bible club will give scripture readings.

Three short talks on "Things We Are Thankful For" will be given as follows: "Health," Robbie Stauffer of the Hopi Friendly Indians, "Home," a member of the Raggers and "God," by Mike Chairez of the Pathfinders Pioneers.

Following the singing of a hymn, the talks on "Things We Are Thankful For" will be given as follows: "Nature," by Terry Ragan of the Thunder Bird Friendly Indians; "Our Country," by John Goddard, president of the Junior Class H. Y. and "Friends," by Leon Lauderbach, Jr., of the Tuxis club.

R. H. MacArthur, member of the Boys' Work committee, will deliver a short talk on "We Should Be Thankful" and Edward Budd will give the closing prayer.

PATROLMAN HURT IN HEAD-ON COLLISION

MADERA, Cal., Nov. 22.—(UP)—State Highway Patrolman L. D. Row, of Madera, was confined in a Madera hospital today after he suffered several fractured ribs when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile on the Pacheco Pass highway near here late Saturday.

Row was injured when he catapulted from his machine over a car driven by Joe Chambers, of Chowchilla, onto the road ahead. Chambers was held on a traffic charge after investigating officers reported he turned his car into Row's path while the patrolman was pursuing a speeding automobile.

Men's Club To Hold Yule Dance Dec. 4

SAN CLEMENTE, Nov. 22.—The San Clemente Men's club 49er dance is planned for the evening of December 4, in Casino San Clemente, to which the general public is invited.

Each year an event of this kind is scheduled by the Men's club for the purpose of raising funds for the giving of every child in San Clemente up to high school age a Christmas gift.

DRAMA GIVEN BY MEMBERS OF AID

GARDEN GROVE, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Charles J. Seitter was in charge of the program presented at the recent meeting of the General Aid society in the First Methodist church, which showed activities of Methodist churches throughout the world.

A drama entitled "If People Only Knew" was presented in three scenes, representing 1850, 1890 and the present time. Dressed in costumes of the different times the following took part: Mrs. J. M. Chilton, Mrs. Jack Jantges, Mrs. Albert Schneider, Mrs. Elmer Hall, Mrs. Wilma Milheiser, Mrs. J. L. Mitchell, Mrs. L. L. Doig, Mrs. C. G. Hall and Mrs. Clifton Bryan.

Others taking part in the program were Miss Mettie Chaffee, Mrs. F. A. Monroe, Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Mrs. J. O. Arkley and Mrs. E. M. Dozier. A round table discussion on the board of temperance was led by Mrs. Seitter. Mrs. Irvine German sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. F. A. Monroe.

During the morning session Mrs. D. Cribaro of Santa Ana, Orange County Federated Aid president, spoke on aid work. Her mother, Mrs. G. E. Bruns, was a guest.

Dance Of Youth Club On Tuesday

ANAHEIM, Nov. 22.—St. Boniface Youth club plans a dance Tuesday evening at the parish hall. In charge of Tuesday's party are Ferdinand Patton, U. Peltzer, Richard Kramer, Henry Pelous, Miss Patty Fassel, Miss Milo Sweeney and Miss Marion Effer, decorations; and Miss Beatrice Gregor, Miss Agnes Kramer, Miss Murva Dressler, Miss Rose Pelous, Miss Rosemary Trokey and Miss Eleanor Fochtman, refreshments.

CHARTER HOLDS 118 GUESTS IN DINNER AT H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 22.—An all Italian dinner party was staged by Chapter C. V. of the P. E. O. sisterhood recently, the A. L. Henrickson home on North Main street being transformed into a P. E. O. Italian cafe. The hostesses were Mrs. Henrickson and Mrs. David Roy White.

These tables spread with bright dishes and linens and mounds of colorful fruits artistically formed in centerpieces, were arranged in the large living room and adjoining dining room. Vases of bright red roses and glowing red candles placed about the rooms added charm to the gay setting.

Waiters in full Italian regalia looked after the needs of the guests and M. G. Jones, principal of the high school, Raymond M. Elliott, vice-principal; Roy K. Smith and Jack Colvin presided as hosts at the tables.

S. R. Bowen, related experiences while traveling abroad. Mrs. Jack Colvin delighted the merry-makers when she played the piano for an hour of dancing.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Field, of Palos Verdes; Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Westminister; and Mr. and Mrs. Bowen. Members of C. V. and the B. I. L. brotherhood attending were Messrs and Mesdames B. P. Hess, El Monte; Arthur Annersson, Jack Colvin, Raymond M. Elliott, John G. Haldean, M. G. Jones, R. G. Miller, H. H. Jackson, L. W. Robbins, Roy Smith, W. E. John, Whitfield, Arthur Wilson, Dr. Lawrence Whitaker, Mrs. May Jackson, Miss Sara Whitfield, all of Huntington Beach and Mrs. Rolie Downs, Los Angeles.

Hold Funeral Of William T. Andrus

FULLERTON, Nov. 22.—Funeral services for William T. Andrus, 71, of Placentia, were held today from the McAulay and Suters Funeral home.

Mr. Andrus, who has been tower man at the Santa Fe crossing at Bradford avenue, Placentia, for many years, was a charter member of the Fullerton commandery, and was a member of Fullerton Masonic lodge No. 339.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Lillian M. Andrus, a daughter, Mrs. Helen Freitas, and a sister, Mrs. Jessie Peterson, of Placentia, he is survived by three grand-daughters, Mrs. Gilbert Hansen and Mrs. James McNailey and Miss Betty Logan, of San Francisco. A brother, C. Burt Andrus, also survives.

Petition To Oust Black Is Rejected

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(UP)—The Supreme Court rejected today the latest challenge to eligibility of Associate Justice Hugo L. Black. The new petition had asked that all questions relating to Black's right to sit on the high bench be settled "once and for all."

The challenge was contained in a petition filed last week by Robert Gray Taylor, Media, Pa., and Elizabeth L. Seymour, Salamanna, N. Y. They asked permission to file a formal suit against President Roosevelt's only appointee to the tribunal.

They had filed a similar request earlier which was denied by the court last Monday. Their new plea raised several new questions not previously officially brought to the tribunal's attention.

Among these questions was that of whether Black had perjured himself in taking his jurist's oath because of the allegedly irrevocable character of the oath he took in becoming a member of the Ku Klux Klan, and whether he had been confirmed by the Senate under false pretenses because he failed to reveal his one time membership in the hooded order.

Arrangements for the luncheon were in charge of a committee headed by Roberta Nickols, with Ann Wetherell as chairman of the luncheon program committee. Mary Ann Low is basketball manager, and Irene Noble tennis manager.

AIRLINE INSURANCE RATES ARE LOWERED

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Col. Edgar S. Gorrell, president of the Air Transport Association of America, today announced that four leading insurance companies soon will offer trip insurance for airline passengers at the rate prevailing for train and steamship travelers.

"The reduction which will be as much as 75 per cent on some trips," Gorrell said, "is official recognition that air travel is one of the best forms of transportation."

The Chicago-New York flight will cost only 25 cents for $5000 coverage as compared to the existing rate of $1 and coast-to-coast flight insurance will be $1 for $5000 coverage instead of $2 as it is now.

P. T. A. Arranges Family Program

BUENA PARK, Nov. 22.—Family night will be celebrated at the meeting of the Grand avenue P. T. A. Tuesday evening in the school auditorium. A cash prize is offered for the largest family present with the qualification that the family must have one child enrolled at Grand avenue school. A panel discussion on "The Value of Recreation in Community Life" will comprise the program.

SEEKS DIVORCE

RENO, Nev., Nov. 22.—(UP)—Mrs. Carol F. Green of New York filed suit for divorce today against John W. Green of Hollywood, noted jazz orchestra leader.

She will obtain an uncontested divorce later today at a private trial on her charges of cruelty and desertion in September, 1933. They were married in New York, April 29, 1930.

FIRE LOSS IS $25

Fire which developed beneath an over-heated fireplace at the home of James R. Leonard, 610 West Sixth street, Saturday night, resulted in $25 damages, firemen who responded to the alarm call, estimated. Fire which developed in a carburetor cleaner in a car, owner unknown, last night, at Tenth and Main streets, did little damage. It was started through back-firing of the carburetor, police said.

V. F. W. MEETS TO PLAN PARLEY

More than 300 members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in California were in Orange yesterday to attend the Department Council of Administration conference.

During the conference presided over by Department Commander James Fleming plans were launched for the departmental convention to be held at San Jose in June.

Named Staff Members

Prior to the meeting of the Department Council, members of Ernest L. Kellogg Post No. 1630, met in Santa Ana and Commander James Sullivan announced appointment of staff members for the coming year. Appointees included: George E. Hubbard, adjutant; Clarence Davis, officer of the day; Otto Hogar, guard; Charles E. Hyatt, patriotic instructor; Glen D. Hendrickson, post historian; E. H. Miller and John Davis and A. B. Hulme, color guards.

Plans for an intensive recruiting campaign were announced with Senior Vice Commander H. C. Clayton named as chairman of the recruiting committee. Hyatt, in addition to his appointment as patriotic instructor, was elected delegate to the county council of the organization with Henry Mueller named as alternate.

Members of the post also decided to start a series of district breakfasts to which members of the organization in the Third district, including Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties, will be invited. The first breakfast will be held January 23, it was announced.

Police News

S. M. Snyder, 53, arrested late Saturday night by California Highway Officer Horace Inge, was jailed here on a drunk driving charge. He is a Long Beach oil worker. Joe Castro, 26, Bell, was booked at county jail late last night on felony drunk driving charge after an accident investigation by California Highway Officers Dan Adams and Ben Craig.

After being jailed last night here on a drunk charge, Roy Cooper, 28, 820 East Fourth, was held for investigation in connection with asserted theft of 42 nickels and three pennies from the home of Mrs. Margaret Kouze, 11th street between Bush and Spurgeon, Saturday, police investigated and the window-smasher agreed to pay for the damage.

W. H. Siemson, 1810 North Main street, reported boys playing football in the street, had smashed a window of his car, parked on 11th street between Bush and Spurgeon, Saturday, police investigated and the window-smasher agreed to pay for the damage.

Two boys, residents of Lewiston, Utah, were placed in detention home here at 12:30 a. m. today, after they were found wandering city streets aimlessly. Officers L. H. Nicholson and Daniel Jones reported. The boys, Clyde Lewis, 15, and Reed Bright, 16, said they had hitch-hiked here to visit Ronald Choate, and could not find him at his last address known to them, 308 West Bishop. Relatives and friends are being sought today.

Clacio Martinez, 37, 1032 Lincoln avenue, was jailed here last night after Officers William Nielsen and Ernest Zimmerman arrested him at Third and Lacy streets, on drunk driving charges. He was pronounced "very drunk."

The automobile which H. A. Bradley reported was stolen from the B. J. MacMullen used car lot, 110 North Main, Friday night, was found during the week end by city police, at Fairview and Van Ness.

Harold T. Cook, 803 West Third, told Officers W. E. Sherwood and Richard M. Bradley thieves stole his car keys, rabbit's foot, key ring, zipper jacket, pipe and tobacco pouch, red leather gloves and advertising matter describing a well-known brand of cheese, while his car was parked here Saturday night.

Visible writing was the next improvement after the shift key on typewriters. First appearing in 1833, it enabled the writer to see plainly the typed letters on the paper.

The next meeting of the farm bureau group will be held December 6 at the Farm Bureau building on North Main street in Santa Ana. "Yeast Breads" will be the lesson topic.

LOST KINGDOM

CAST OF CHARACTERS

ROBERT BARRY—hero, explorer

MELISSA LANE—heroine, Barry's partner

HONEY BEE GIRL—Indian, member of Barry's party

HADES JONES—pioneer; member Barry's party

Yesterday, Melissa develops a decided liking for her young partner. And Bob gets the second surprise of his expedition—the cook he had hired said she was a woman. He now has a new problem on his hands.

CHAPTER IV

ZACHARY "HADES" JONES came to life first. While the other three in his party still stared, he barked.

"A squaw! Looky thar, it's a squaw!"

The whole party laughed then, and Bob was quick to apologize. "Oh, I'm sorry, uh—Honey—what do you say your name is? Honey Bee? We were not laughing at you, but at ourselves. You see, we expected a male cook, a man."

"I cook thee white man's food," she repeated. "I cook it better than thee white man's woman."

"Sure, Honey, come on tonight anyway. Honey Bee, and cook supper and breakfast for us. We'll still be skirting the Indian country, and you can ride home tomorrow and send us a man. I'll pay you. It's all right."

The supper that night turned out to be perfect. With scant utensils, an outdoor fire, and a limited stock of supplies, Honey Bee quickly fed them generously and well. She even found time to disappear up a canyon evidently watered by an under-surface stream, and there pick a quantity of the odd plant called miner's lettuce, an unexpectedly delicious salad which she dressed with the rich brown juice of fried ham. It touched the men's appetites greatly.

"Nothin' but an Indian coulda done that," approved Holliman, picking his teeth, but Hades Jones snorted.

Castle outlines with his field glasses, although he could see but little in the twilight. "It's about 600 feet, straight up," he told Mary Melissa. "No, not quite straight up, but nearly so. And you'll note the cliff above has a slight overhang. Centuries of erosion have cut back the softer under strata, where the Castle stands."

"Why is it called Defiance, Dr. Barry?"

"Because it has defied all efforts to explore it, and probably was impregnable as a fort when occupied. One archaeologist, from the State University, did manage to climb part way up, chiseling toe holds and using ropes. But even he slipped on the down trip and broke his leg. And until now nobody has appropriated money for a real effort at it."

Mary Melissa stared intently upward. Fast dying shadows of day seemed to create life in the old ruin.

"Looks ghostly," she ventured. "It is. There's a wealth of legend about the place, Miss Lane. Many good yarns; some fact, maybe. These dwellings were abandoned before Columbus sailed. We don't know why."

"Goodness!" breathed the white girl. "It's fascinating."

"Yes!"

"Maybe the Indians drove them away. But where?"

"Can't say. There are Indian legends about it too, but they don't help much."

NEXT dawn found Bob Barry impatient to visit Defiance Castle. During the night he had evolved a new plan. It excited him so that he arose before anybody else, shook Holliman awake and with him left camp before anyone else stirred. Some cold food did them for breakfast.

"I have a hunch I can make a preliminary exploration this morning, Holliman," the young scientist beamed. "Let's take a long rope—say 300 feet of the one-inch stuff—and ride around to the top of this cliff."

Holliman looked at his boss. "What you gonna do?" he demanded.

"Never mind now. Maybe nothing. Let's see if we can get to the top of that cliff."

They could, by riding two miles south and cutting back and up on a zigzag, rocky course, then climbing through more rocks to the mesa top. They were three hours at it.

"Ought to be easy," Bob began.

"Here, let's anchor one end of the rope firmly. Then you snub the middle length around this mesquite tree trunk, Holliman, and I'll be on the other end."

"You mean—you goin' to swing over? You aim to take us all down there that way?"

"Maybe. It might be the simplest way."

Bob Barry started down, but he had overlooked two things. First, the wind at the cliff edge was very strong, forestalling all efforts to shout instructions up to Holliman once the descent over the ledge was begun.

He was dangling down nearly 150 feet when he discovered that he was on a level with the castle floor. He shouted to Holliman, but got no answer, and Holliman let him go down, some 30 feet too far. Then he realized the importance of the second item he had forgotten—the cliff overhang.

His strong arms, developed in years of swimming, enabled him to climb back up to the level of the castle floor. But because of the overhang above him, he was still 20 feet or more from the rock lip. He knotted the rope at that point and studied the situation.

"Hey, Holliman!" he yelled, but the wind swallowed his voice.

"Gee, it's a long drop under me!" he murmured. "It was indeed. About 400 feet to some tropes, then more trees in assorted levels for 200 feet or so more. He could see Miss Lane and Honey Bee staring up at him. He grinned and waved, showing more confidence than he felt.

He noted in a flash that the ancient castle walls, made of crude masonry, were remarkably well preserved. He was close enough to study their exterior. He thought he could see blackened rocks, where fires had burned centuries ago.

But scientific interest was fleeting. He had twisted the rope around his left leg to hold himself there, and the stricture was hurting. He looked up. Could a man climb 150 feet of rope? He didn't know.

He was swaying in the wind. On a narrow ledge down to the left he recognized an eagle's nest. He suddenly envied the eagles. A moment of hysteria chilled him, but he literally forced himself to think calmly again. Robert Barry had a trained mind.

He could not but two possibilities. Each offered a very slim chance, he realized, but he must decide quickly to risk one of them.

NEWS OF ORANGE

SHOWER IS HELD AT RANCH HOME

STUDENTS PRESENT PAGEANT AT HIGH SCHOOL ON DEC. 17

ORANGE, Nov. 22.—The lovely ranch home of Mr. and Mrs. William Krueger on East La Veta street, Orange, was the setting Saturday evening for a party and layette shower in honor of Mrs. Gregory Kuester, daughter of the hostess, Mrs. Charles O. Tucker, Mrs. William Anton, aunts of the honoree, and Mrs. Elwood Stevens, a close friend of the family, were co-hostesses.

An open fire crackled merrily on the hearth adding its soft glow and warmth to the pleasant atmosphere of the room. Pink and white prevailed in the color scheme and the colors were emphasized in pompom chrysanthemums arranged in large baskets. The center piece on the dining room table was a small woven basket filled with pink and white sweet peas, blue delphinium and maidenhair fern tied with a large pink tulle bow.

As the guests arrived the daintily wrapped packages, gifts for Mrs. Kuester, were placed upon the table around the bassinet.

Each guest was given an envelope containing a big saw puzzle which when assembled made a blue bottle tied with pink ribbon. Mrs. Frank Fiske won first prize and Mrs. Katherine Jost won second prize. In making the most words from the letters in the honoree's name Mrs. Leona Bove scored first and Mrs. Sam Buckridge won second. The winners were awarded attractive prizes.

Mrs. George Sherry and her sister, Mrs. Hollis Jacobsen, gave a number of piano and vocal selections.

Refreshments of several colors of jello molded in various shapes with whipped cream, individual white cakes topped with a pink rosebud were served on oval silver trays, holding a tri-colored nut cup filled with candies.

Those bidden to the lovely affair included Mesdames George Sherry, Hollis Jacobsen and Leona Bove of Costa Mesa; Frazier Emmett and Willie Emmett of Pasadena; Lynn Graves of Long Beach; John H. Boege, Herbert Kueger of Anaheim; R. Y. Engeman of Van Nuys; Naomi Danaher, Alice Walker, Katherine Jost, Marie Jost, Emelia Jacobsen, T. H. Huffman, Ernest Atkinson, Thomas Croddy, John English, H. HOOD SHOWER IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Nov. 21.—As a compliment to Mrs. Gregory Kuester, Mrs. Fred Mahoney was hostess to a group of intimate friends in her home on Pearl street Friday evening.

The affair was an especially pleasant one as the mother of the honoree guest, Mrs. William Krueger, and the hostess have been close friends since early girlhood. Three stately storks in a setting provided by tall baskets of long-stemmed Transvaal daisies stood guard over a table piled high with lovely gifts. A small stork was placed in the center of the table and held in its beak long streamers of pink and blue satin ribbon which were attached to the gifts.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Kuester at the close of a musical program by Mrs. W. C. Armstrong and little Miss Barbara Krueger, sister of the honoree guest. Appropriate games were arranged and directed by Mrs. Eldon Paddock.

Dainty refreshments of orange sherbet, chocolate nut cake, cookies and tea were served on dolly spread trays. Pink and blue nut cups were used as favors. Mrs. Eldon Paddock assisted the hostess in serving the guests.

The invited list included Mrs. Gregory Kuester, Mrs. William Krueger, Mrs. Ida Kuester, Mrs. Ed Paddock, Miss Barbara Krueger, Mrs. James Pannell, Mrs. Lillie Atkinson, Miss Edith Tallman, Mrs. Doris Gray, Mrs. Robert Mapson, Mrs. George Dillard, Mrs. Tob Brown, Miss Betty Carnes, Mrs. Joseph Hancock, Mrs. Charles Armstrong, Mrs. Frank Sondericker, Mrs. Eldon Paddock and the hostess Mrs. Fred Mahoney.

ORANGE, Nov. 22.—Representing an English company which has cast bells since 1360, Frank C. Godfrey of the Taylor Bell company, London, was in Orange recently to confer with a committee of the Immanuel Lutheran church in regard to the proposed chiming to be installed in the tower of the church.

If a proposed plan is carried out the bells for the chiming will number 11, with the largest one to weigh 1800 pounds. While here Godfrey gave the committee figures on the proposed chiming, which would cost about $7000.

According to the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. G. Wierke, bells which are to be used for chiming cannot be purchased in this country as the process for tuning them is a trade secret carried down from generation to generation.

The bells are to be made of an alloy. The Taylor company is the firm which installed the first chiming in America in 1891 when they placed 11 bells in the tower of the University of Iowa at Ames, Iowa. Since that time a carillon of 32 bells has been placed at this university similar to 32 bells at Berkeley. The bells at Immanuel church will be the only ones in Orange county and one of the few sets on the west coast.

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—Mrs. James Bruce Little (Twyla Taylor) of Santa Ana, was pleasantly surprised Friday night when a group of friends arrived at her home, 720 East First street, Santa Ana, for a beautifully appointed layette shower. Hostesses were the Misses June Taylor and Thelma Waller, both of Orange.

Guests were for Mrs. Little and Mrs. Dale Hull were judged first prize winner in a sewing contest. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, who were assisted by Miss Thelma Heaton. Afterwards Mrs. Little was presented with many lovely gifts.

Present at the delightful event were Mesdames John Terry, Sid Kilgore, William Hightower, Polly Marsh, Lawrence Wann, Clarence Waller, Mildred Shadowen, Walter Stinnett, Roy Taylor, S. O. Wann, Harold Dennis and Jessie Taylor, Thelma Waller, LaRue Littler, June Taylor and Thelma Heaton, all of Orange.

Santa Ana guests were Mesdames Dale Hull, Ernie Dunn, Jennie Sweetzer, Blair Little, Charles Clark and Mrs. Charles Cunningham.

EL MODENA, Nov. 21.—As a compliment to Mrs. Gregory Kuester, Mrs. Fred Mahoney was hostess to a group of intimate friends in her home on Pearl street Friday evening.

The affair was an especially pleasant one as the mother of the honoree guest, Mrs. William Krueger, and the hostess have been close friends since early girlhood. Three stately storks in a setting provided by tall baskets of long-stemmed Transvaal daisies stood guard over a table piled high with lovely gifts. A small stork was placed in the center of the table and held in its beak long streamers of pink and blue satin ribbon which were attached to the gifts.

Contributors to the Clearing House in The Register are urged to sign their own name and address to their letters. The Register during the last few weeks has received some fine letters, many of which apparently had been written after deep study. But because non-de-plumes and fictitious names were appended it was impossible to run them.

The Register is not averse to using these letters with a non-de-plume, but the editor must know the name and address of the contributor. These names will be kept secret if the writer so desires. However, the editor must know the name of the writer in order to authenticate the communication.

SUICIDE GAMBLE

It is hard to understand the particular kind of mental aberration that led those two youths to try the old Russian-suicide stunt of the one-shell-and-the-revolver.

In this stunt, you put one shell in the gun, twirl the cylinder, put the muzzle to your head, and fire. There is one chance in six that you will kill yourself, five chances that the firing pin will hit nothing and that you will live.

Two young men, one in Los Angeles and the other in Utah, tried this recently. Both of them lost their lives. Neither one wanted to die. From all accounts, they were just out to show their friends that they had courage.

"Courage" may be one word for it. "Insanity," however, seems more apt.

TO DICTATORS (Personal)

Once the "strong man" virus bites, the effect is hard to throw off. Even Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, fleeing from Berlin as his mirage of a place in the sun faded, found it difficult to forget the glory he left.

His party was halted at the Dutch border by a sergeant who requested their weapons. The retinue was aghast. "The Emperor hand his sword to a common sergeant? The Emperor will deal only with a general!"

That was on Armistice day, 1918. Twenty years later, celebrating the anniversary of his exile, Wilhelm is just the weariest and oldest of the Hohenzollerns, an exiled wood-chopper and a classic example to the current set of dictators and international would-be's—if they were smart enough to know it.

CRIME REVIVES

The insolent underworld gangs that were so notorious a few years ago have pretty well been broken up, yet J. Edgar Hoover, head G-man, warns that it is a mistake to suppose that crime in the United States is decreasing.

Addressing a convention of the American Hotel association, in Pittsburgh, Mr. Hoover stated bluntly that more felonies were committed this far in 1937 than in the same period last year. There were sharp increases in robberies, burglaries, larcenies and auto thefts. There were more homicides, more cases of criminal assault.

Clearly, there is nothing in this picture to justify any trace of complacency in our attitude toward the crime problem. A fine job has been done, since Capone was in his hey day, but an equally big, if less spectacular job remains still to do.

'ISMS' AND ANTAGONISMS

The growing hostility between Italy and Russia, brought to a head by Italian adherence to the anti-Communist pact, draws attention once more to the threat to world peace which arises from the international character of Fascism and Communism.

Italy's response to Russian objections to the pact is that Italy is not an enemy of Russia, but simply of Communism, which, as far as that goes, probably is true enough. But the trouble with both of these nations is that their governments are inseparably wedded to world movements which must inevitably interfere in the affairs of other nations.

It is perfectly possible, of course, to be bitterly opposed to Fascism or Communism and not opposed to Russia or Italy at all, but it is awfully hard. And as long as those two "isms" continue to arouse antagonism abroad, world peace will remain perilously insecure.

LAWS AND GOOD SENSE

The Philadelphia bureau of municipal research, trying to laugh obsolete ordinances from city records by publicizing ridiculous laws that never were repealed, is setting a good example for both sides over what is and what isn't constitutional.

Already unearthed are these sample verbiages: smoking on bridges, in public squares and parks; carrying umbrellas into public markets; riding velocipedes in parks.

Even in that day of simple living, those "lawless" actions involved no great matters of public defense, health, morals or welfare. They involved nothing more than individual exercise of good taste and judgment by citizens.

A good many lawmakers today are making the same mistake of sticking their official noses in where they have no business. Merely by distinguishing between legal essentials and non-essentials, those lawmakers can save themselves from looking silly. It isn't a matter of the constitution at all.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

"DIVINE RIGHT OF THE MASSES"

As we are taking larger and larger doses of having all questions decided by the voting majority and as our schools are indoctrinating into the minds of our children that we will be better off by having the majority rule on all questions, it might be of interest to note what the great Frenchman, Gustav LeBon, has to say on the forces which govern the public mind.

Perhaps no one has even made a more comprehensive study of why men do things than LeBon. He published the results of a life time study in this work in 1896 in the book called, "The Crowd."

As we are trying to reform our people in a short time, what he had to say on the possibility of enlightening the crowd so that it could govern itself on all questions is of interest. We quote:

"The reason is, that the most attentive observation of the facts of history has invariably demonstrated to me that social organisms being every whit as complicated as those of all beings, it is in no wise in our power to force them to undergo any sudden far-reaching transformations. Nature has recourse at times to radical measures, but never after our fashion, which explains how it is that nothing is more fatal to a people than the mania for great reforms, however excellent these reforms may appear theoretically. They would only be useful were it possible to change instantaneously the genius of nations. This power, however, is only possessed by time....

"Today the claims of the masses are becoming more and more sharply defined, and amount to nothing less than a determination to utterly destroy society as it now exists, with a view to making it hark back to that primitive communism, which was the normal condition of all human groups before the dawn of civilization. Limitations of the hours of labor, the nationalization of mines, railways, factories and the soil, the equal distribution of all products, the elimination of all the upper classes for the benefit of the popular classes, etc., such are these claims.

"Little adapted to reasoning, crowds, on the contrary, are quick to act. As the result of their present organization their strength has become immense. The dogmas whose birth we are witnessing will soon have the force of the old dogmas; that is to say, the tyrannical and sovereign force of being above discussion. The divine right of the masses is about to replace the divine right of kings."

No real student of history, whom we have been able to find, has ever believed the majority could rule on all questions and maintain a high standard of civilization. There are certain inalienable rights belonging to the people, as set down by the Bill of Rights, which cannot be decided by the majority rule. The sooner the people realize this, the sooner we will be ready to take up the line of progress.

FAR FROM JEFFERSONIAN DEMOCRACY

The present administration, which calls itself democracy, is about as far from the Thomas Jefferson demoe as it is possible to be. The head of the party has called a special session to regulate agriculture and further regulate industry.

On the subject of individual initiative, Thomas Jefferson said, "agriculture, manufacture, commerce and navigation—the four pillars of our prosperity—are the most thriving when left to individual enterprise."

It is because both the Republican and Democratic parties have interfered with individual enterprise that we have had eight years of the worst depression in our history.

Neither Thomas Jefferson nor, as we read history, any of the other framers of the Constitution were in favor of universal suffrage. They well knew that to permit all questions to be decided by majority rule would mean ruin.

The present administration is saturated with the idea that majority rule can solve all our difficulties. It is certainly far afield from Jeffersonian democracy.

HOUSE BUILDING—UNITED STATES VERSUS ENGLAND

Those people who expect a building boom to help revive business seem to have forgotten that from 1920 to 1930 house building in the United States was 400 per cent greater than any similar decade in America's entire history. During that same period, the building in England was practically nil.

This probably accounts for the recent building spurt in England causing a business revival in England. It is generally reported now, however, that this building boom is fast petering out.

The Nation's Press

FEWER ACRES, MORE BALES

So it seems that after heroic efforts to reduce cotton production by reducing the acreage planted to cotton the United States is in 1937 to have the largest cotton crops in its history! The Department of Agriculture estimates the output under conditions prevailing on November 1 at 18,245,000 bales. The largest previous crop was in 1926, when the total amounted to 17,078,000 bales. But in 1926 approximately 44,000 acres were planted to cotton, whereas in 1937 the aggregate acreage is 33,736,000 acres. This means that 10,850,000 fewer acres are producing 265,000 more bales!

This is another black eye for National planning, placed there by the large and lusty fist of nature. Apparently something besides acreage control must be resorted to before Federal bureaucracy can predetermine output and make its arrangements accordingly. Not that Federal bureaucracy will allow itself to be influenced in this matter by a truth so obvious. Already there is talk of reducing next year's planting by an additional 2,000,000 acres, but even this would still mean a considerable crop provided this year's average of 258.8 pounds an acre were maintained.

This suggests also that nature has been playing a scurvy trick in respect of poundage—scurvy, that is, from the standpoint of those who look upon scarcity as a blessing and plenty as an evil. The previous high record for pounds to the acre was set in 1925, 1926, the average was 223.1; last year it was only 197.6. Plainly we shall have to add an ever-normal poundage to our scheme for an ever-normal granary before we can come safely into that Utopia toward which the New Deal is so zealously hustling us.—New York Sun.

Editor Register:
Price Fixing and Regimentation, No.
Democracy and an honest dollar? Yes.

Pres. Roosevelt said on Oct. 22, 1933, "We shall seek to establish and maintain a dollar which will not change its purchasing and debt paying power during the succeeding generation."

Four years have passed since then, and we know what has been tried out. It's a scarcity plan to regiment all industry, labor and agriculture to produce just a certain amount, he and his advisers decide the quantity to be produced. These advisers and the president draw salaries large enough that price does not affect their comfort in the least. These super-beings could see only the "surplus" that they said would destroy their economic system, whatever that is, which turns out to be the debt with interest, tax exempt bonds, unlimited system.

So they plow the cotton under, kill the cattle, hogs and sheep, by the millions, and pay the farmers "not to raise wheat." And then the 1934 and 1936 droughts, and these were not in their "Planned Economy" or their stabilized dollar either. And the unemployed, in a machine age, interferes; but they went right ahead issuing bonds until we could see "Recovery" at a place at the head of Depression Valley; just a short distance and we will be there, and there at a curve in the road we looked to see "Recovery" and it was a mirage, and we are into another Depression Valley, and we don't know how deep it is yet.

We had passed a law evaluating debts in dollars; in the same quantity of commodities when paid, as it represented when made, it would be honest dollar debts.

If ten of the principal commodities in each state, each year with the average price as the paying price of debts issued that year were printed or recorded; and the debt paid in the same quantity of commodities when due, it would be an honest dollar. Illustrated as follows:

Ohio Base, 1918
Wheat, bushel	$ 2.26
Corn, bushel	1.50
Hay, ton	12.00
Hogs, 100 lbs	18.00
Cattle, 100 lb.	15.00
Milk, 100 lb.	1.50
Coal, ton	10.00
Labor, day	6.00
Interest, $100	8.00
Land, acre	220.00
	$294.36

Ohio Base 1932
Wheat, bushel	$.50
Corn, bushel	.30
Hay, ton	4.00
Hogs, 100 lbs	3.25
Cattle, 100 lb.	4.50
Milk, 100 lb.	.80
Coal, ton	4.00
Labor, day	3.00
Interest, $100	5.00
Land, acre	40.00
	$ 65.35

This shows that it required nearly five times the quantity of the same thing in 1932 at Panic Prices, to pay 1918 Debts at War Prices. Because they were payable in dollars.

This is one reason that causes a committee of one each, representing 10 of the principal commodities, each year, set the quantity of commodities, evaluated in dollars all debts made that year, should be paid in, we would have an honest debt paying dollar. We produce products or services that we use and live on, not dollars, which may be and are manipulated by the "insiders." Under this system money would be exactly what originally intended, just a medium of exchange as it should be.

E. U. BRIGGS.

tions"—the amount of available goods, money or credit, the burden of taxes, the policies of government, fire, drought, pestilence and war—afflict prices but only because and to the extent that they affect such thinking. Sometimes, as in early 1929, when "underlying condition" was violently against rising prices, they skyrocketed in everything except commodities.

In the Dutch tulipomania, for years people hocked everything they could get to buy nothing more substantial than tulips which reached fantastic prices. What "conditions" could have been more adverse to price rises than those underlying our Western land-booms, and especially the French assignats or the Mississippi and South Sea speculations—but they happened just the same.

Or take our now-threatened depression. The present unusually sound "underlying conditions" certainly do not warrant a new 1929. But it threatens. Why?

Not the tax and budget structure as it is. It was exactly the same, or perhaps not quite so good, earlier in the year when we reached a post-depression high. No, the "thinking" that made this slump is not based so much on what has been done by the Third New Deal as what people fear it is going to do.

That the President clearly sees this is evident from his speech opening Congress and by all that is happening in Washington today. The great question on which our "escape from the abyss" now depends is not this or that particular piece of tax legislation, important as that is. It is whether the whole cluster of what is done and said now by the whole Third New Deal will be sufficient to convince the country of a true change of front. It will be some job.

Little Benny's Note Book

By LEE PAPE

My cousin Artie was over at my house after school and me and him was in ma's room talking about different subjects such as wick combinations have the best taste, me saying, You can't beat a hamburger with plenty of ketchup on it, so there's no use trying.

I can beat it without trying, I can beat it with a hot dog with just enough mustard on it, Artie said, and I said, Go on, that's not half as good.

No, because it's 10 times better, Artie said.

Being a good answer, and ma said, Really, boys, I mean really, can't you improve your minds by finding anything better to discuss?

Well G wizzickers, ma, what's better than a hamburger with plenty of ketchup? I said, and Artie said, a hot dog with just enough mustard, that's what.

Can't you talk about something instructive, can't you discuss your lessons for land sakes? ma said, and I said, G, that's a good idea, let's talk about zoology.

Sure, let's talk about the stummick, Artie said. Do you know the stummick is a pear shape bag containing about 2 quarts? O boy how would you like to have your stummick containing about 2 quarts of ice cream? he said and I said I'd rather have mine containing

The Family Doctor

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, Health Magazine

WITHOUT ITSELF AFFECTING HEALTH
HAIR MAY GROW ILL WHEN BODY IS ILL

This is the first in a series in which Dr. Morris Fishbein discusses the hair, its health and care.

Because we are creatures of custom, far more attention is given to the presence or absence of the hair, its color, its straightness or curliness, its excess, or its other qualities than it merits from any point of view except that of vanity. It is doubtful that the hair itself has any effect whatever on health.

Hair on the human body gives support to the belief that man once was covered with hair like other animals and that the change in his habits and exposure of his body to the sunlight resulted in the general loss of most of his hair.

If we study the various races of man we discover some with hair that is naturally curly and others with hair that is usually straight. A hair that curls is usually flat in appearance when seen under a microscope. Straight hair is usually cylindrical.

When you look at a hair under the microscope you find that it has three layers, a central, an inner and an outer layer.

Today much more attention is being given to the care of the hair than was customary a quarter of a century ago. Before 1915, bobbed hair for women was a rarity. Since bobbed hair has come in, the upkeep on the hair in a family with a mother and two grown daughters would pay the family medical bill for a year and leave plenty over.

Ordinary care of the hair is not a difficult matter. The hair should be washed often enough to keep it clean. For short hair, washing should occur at least once in two weeks and for long hair once in three weeks.

There is no evidence that the use of eggs in shampoos is of any more use than throwing an egg into an electric fan. Any good toilet soap that will lather freely is useful for the hair. Most important is a thorough rinsing and drying of the hair after washing. Experts are inclined to suggest the importance of slow drying rather than drying with an electric blower of heat.

If the hair is too dry, a small amount of oil may be rubbed into it after drying. Dryness of the hair is due to lack of the oil secreted by the glands of the scalp.

When the body in general is in ill health, the hair is likely to be ill also. Falling of the hair after any serious illness is exceedingly common. When the body begins to improve and its hygiene to reach an optimum state, the hair also will return to normal.

Condition of the blood is closely related to the hair, for the blood supplies nourishment to the scalp exactly as it does to the rest of the body. Therefore, a good supply of high quality blood is important for the well-being of the hair.

Out of this simple fact have come a half dozen or more treatments for falling hair which, however, have failed to restore hair. In some later columns in this series of articles some of these devices and methods will be described.

NEXT: Body control over hair growth.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1937 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Mr. R's supposedly good friends, the port-sided new dealers have organized to do a little scouting of his budget balancing ship.

It was intended to be an undercover job but the noise of their hammers can be heard for miles around the capitol.

Southpaw congressional leaders, for instance, have passed the word there that any of their gang desiring tools to sink the president's hopes may get such facts and figures for speeches—impossible as it may sound—at the office of WPA spender, Harry Hopkins.

NOTE—What this makes Mr. Hopkins is not clear. It does not necessarily mean he is rallying the southpaws, but probably only that the southpaws are rallying around his statistical machine tool-bureau.

First obvious results of the not-so-very-overcover campaign are the appearance of stories that the president really did not mean it when he said he would balance next year. These are all over congress and getting into print. Of course, no authority is being mentioned for such assertions, but they help to bolster the porters' post that their scuttling has some official sanction.

But they seem to disavow this pose in their official sabotage-motto which is: "We most not let the Morgenthau influence get too great at the White House."

The simple situation seems to be that they are merely trying to pull the president their way and are trusting that he will continue to be as lenient as he has been in the past with scuttlers, as long as they are friends.

Another angle of the same situation is the current La Guardia-Ickes undercutting of the new Straus housing administration.

Interior Secretary Ickes, who incidentally made the dictaphone what it is today in Washington, is a spender who wanted control of the Straus housing administration, and has had trouble with Administrator Straus since he (Ickes) failed to get it.

The La Guardia telegram to Straus telling him to "discontinue star gazing" and get down to business was generally accepted here as La Guardia's repayment for a speech which Mr. Ickes made for Mr. La Guardia in the New York mayoralty campaign.

Mr. La Guardia, of course, does not care how fast the federal dough flows as long as New York gets a big share.

To them and to all the southpaws the budget is something that does not come under their department.

Excuses now being offered by congressional leaders for not rushing revision of the corporate tax may sound political, but the situation behind them is this:

Congress rushed into the tax in the first place without careful study. As a result mistakes must now be corrected. Yet there is a live danger that hasty corrections may be worse than the original errors, or as bad.

Old-time legislators know it is the height of folly to try to write tax bills in a hurry or to let them be written on the open floor because if one rate tax is changed it may sound political, but the situation behind them is this:

Thus the current campaign of business organizations for immediate action is not likely to be successful. Even the leaders who want revision in order to bolster business at once, do not intend to run the risk of getting into worse difficulties. Prospects are the revision will be enacted in February or March.

NOTE—The change will not be effective until next year anyway, which is another reason why the befuddled legislators will refuse to be hurried.

Today's 1940 Republican prospect—Senator Harry Bridges of New Hampshire, age 39, a new guardsman experienced in education, farm bureau and political fields; has no enemies and no particular close friends in the Republican party; short on radio personality, but widely respected by many party groups; worst handicap is he does not come from key political state.

His change: About zero as far as delegates to the next nominating convention now are concerned; but somewhat better for second place or 1944-48.

These biting political words being exchanged in both houses of congress do not leave many scars. A Republican leader in the house the other day said his allegorical fangs most deeply into the Democratic leaders than is customary under house etiquette. He called them every kind of stumblebum known to politics for having summoned a special session without having anything to do.

Afterward he went over to his Democratic adversary and said: "I hated to do that because I know you fellows agree with me about the lack of necessity for this session—but, boy, you certainly have no defense and we are not going to let up on you."

Food names are quite common in baseball slang. A baseball is an apple; a ball park is an apple orchard; a bat with poor wood is a banana stalk; a high, lazy batted ball is a can of corn; a youngster is a lamb; a curve ball is a mackerel; a bruise from sliding is a strawberry; etc.

Of the deep-sea varieties of fish, the halibut has the largest eggs. Eggs that have an accumulated weight of more than 16 pounds frequently are carried by a 190-pound halibut.

In early types of motorcycles, the first form of ignition was a tube protruding from the cylinder. This was heated by a Bunsen before the engine could be started.
